MISSION STATEMENT

Michigan State University, a member of the Association of American Universities and one of the top 100 research universities in the world, was founded in 1855. We are an inclusive, academic community known for our traditionally strong academic disciplines and professional programs, and our liberal arts foundation. Our cross- and interdisciplinary enterprises connect the sciences, humanities, and professions in practical, sustainable, and innovative ways to address society's rapidly changing needs.

As a public, research-intensive, land-grant university funded in part by the state of Michigan, our mission is to advance knowledge and transform lives by:

- providing outstanding undergraduate, graduate, and professional education to promising, qualified students in order to prepare them to contribute fully to society as globally engaged citizen leaders
- conducting research of the highest caliber that seeks to answer questions and create solutions to expand human understanding and make a positive difference, both locally and globally
- advancing outreach, engagement, and economic development activities that are innovative, research-driven, and lead to a better quality of life for individuals and communities, at home and around the world.

From the President

CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Graduation is an important milestone. At commencement ceremonies, we celebrate our graduates and their accomplishments at Michigan State University, and we acknowledge the encouragement and support that family and other significant individuals have provided them. Reaching this milestone marks the completion of a degree program and the beginning of the next chapter in each student's life.

Graduates become part of a tradition that spans more than 150 years. As a person with a long-standing connection to Michigan State, I have had many opportunities to interact with alumni, students, faculty, and staff who, on a daily basis, are advancing knowledge and transforming lives. Although much has changed along the banks of the Red Cedar River since I first enrolled in 1970, the core values of the University remain—quality, inclusiveness, and connectivity.

MSU leads as a "community-engaged university." Our faculty and students are involved in outreach and forge partnerships to serve the public good. Through research, education, and practice, we make the world and our campus better places. To be a Spartan is to be a part of something big. There are more than 500,000 Spartans at work on every continent, rising to practically every challenge imaginable. Every day, we make the world more sustainable, healthy, safe, and beautiful, proving again and again that "Spartans Will."

Our graduates go forth as caring global citizens, and although we bid you farewell I ask you to recall what our legendary President John A. Hannah confirmed. A special bond is forged with our graduates.

Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University ...forever.

Forever starts now. May you have a very bright future and come home often.

Sincerely,

Lou Anna Kimsey Simon Ph.D.

From the Provost and Executive Vice President
for Academic Affairs

CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Congratulations to our graduates and your families! As President Simon encourages you to come home often, so do I!

As you may or may not know, I earned my degrees at Michigan State University. This education has served me well.

It gives me great pleasure to be here at a time when Michigan State University continues to create new opportunities at home, in the state of Michigan, and around the world. With our students and faculty, we are achieving new levels of excellence even as we face many new challenges. Our students are enthusiastic in taking advantage of the opportunities to study and to expand their views, and to grow as individuals and global citizens.

As a student of Michigan State University you are a member of a vibrant community united by the common interest we share as scholars. I hope that even after earning your degree, you will always remain members of this community—that is, be hungry to learn, to seek new knowledge, and to share and apply that knowledge for the betterment of others and to contribute to a more sustainable planet for the generations of Spartans who follow you.

As you and your families celebrate your accomplishments at Michigan State University, we join you in that celebration and wish you the best in all of your personal and professional pursuits and in your future endeavors as Spartans. May the relationships you forged here with your professors and other students continue to inspire you.

Sincerely,

June Pierce Youatt Ph.D.
Provost and Executive Vice President
for Academic Affairs

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, founded in 1855, is a leader in realizing the ideal of democratizing education and knowledge. Officially named the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan, it became the model for all land-grant institutions established by the Morrill Act, passed by Congress in 1862. The research and knowledge developed at land-grant institutions provides practical solutions that make a difference in the lives of individuals and in communities. Now, as a major public research university with global reach, Michigan State University continues this tradition with its commitment to advancing knowledge and transforming lives across the state, the region, and around the world.

From its beginnings on the site where Beaumont Tower now stands, the East Lansing campus has grown from 677 to 5,200 acres, and from three to 538 buildings. Today, more than 19,000 acres are used throughout Michigan for agricultural, animal, and forestry research.

MSU has more than 50,000 students from all 83 counties in Michigan, all 50 states, and more than 130 other countries. There are more than one-half million Spartan alumni living around the globe.

Since its agricultural beginnings, MSU has grown to 17 degree-granting colleges offering more than 200 programs of study, including graduate and graduate professional education. The Honors College attracts academically talented scholars and enables these students to pursue individualized, enriched programs of study.

Research and other grants total more than $500 million in 2013-14. The top federal funding agencies include the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Other externally funded research programs include the MSU-U.S. Department of Energy Plant Research Laboratory, the Center for Advancing Microbial Risk Assessment, the Great Lakes Bioenergy Research Center, the Energy and Automotive Research Laboratory Centers, the Composite Vehicle Research Center, the U.S.-China Center for Research on Educational Excellence, the Center for Advanced Study of International Development, and the Center for International Business Education and Research.

The National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory is the premier rare isotope research facility in the nation. In December 2008, the U.S. Department of Energy selected MSU to design and establish the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams (FRIB). The proposed $730 million facility will bring together an international community of leading scientists. Their work will help unlock the mysteries of the universe and promote breakthrough applications for medicine, security, and industry.

MSU Extension reaches into all 83 counties in Michigan to provide practical, university-based knowledge. The AgBioResearch encompasses the research of more than 300 scientists in a network of 13 research centers across the state. Their work ranges from agricultural production, alternative energy and biofuel production, food safety and environmental stewardship to childhood obesity, community development, and the quality of life of Michigan youth and families.

University Outreach and Engagement connects faculty with external audiences and constituencies to address community issues through research and collaboration. MSU Global extends academic and professional degree and certificate programs to off-campus learners.

MSU is a national leader in study abroad among U.S. public universities with more than 270 programs on all continents in more than 60 countries. Nearly 3,000 MSU students participate in study abroad each year.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities, the American Council on Education, the American Council of Learned Societies, the Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

CEREMONY LYRICS

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O, say, can you see
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free,
and the home of the brave.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

ALMA MATER*

M.S.U., We love thy shadows,
when twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling,
o'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather,
to give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
and thy praises, M.S.U.

When from these scenes we wander,
and twilight shadows fade,
Our mem'ry still will linger,
where light and shadows played;
In the evening oft we'll gather,
and pledge our faith anew,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
and thy praises, MSU.

MSU FIGHT SONG

On the banks of the Red Cedar,
is a school that's known to all;
Its speciality is winning,
and those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
all through the game they fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Go right thru' for MSU,
watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
they're fighting with a vim.
RAH! RAH! RAH!
See their team is weakening,
we're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.

*The lyrics of Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925-1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSU Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater.

Lyrics by Francis Irvin Lankey (MSU Engineering, 1916).

UNIVERSITY MACE

Michigan State University is pleased to include the University mace in commencement ceremonies. The introduction of the mace, at the 2005 Founders' Day celebration and inauguration of MSU's twentieth president, serves to commemorate the sesquicentennial celebration. The University, founded in 1855, celebrated its 150th birthday in 2005. The mace was designed by University Relations and produced by Physical Plant staff.

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions with their kings. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a university's mace is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries at commencement, inaugural, and other academic ceremonial processions.

The Michigan State University mace, 42 inches in length, includes important institutional symbols in its finial, crown, and shaft. The finial depicts the circular University seal, which includes an image of "Old College Hall." This oak-carved seal derives from an 1869 State Board of Agriculture (now, Board of Trustees) authorization for a woodcut to be used as the frontispiece of the college academic catalog. College Hall, built in 1856, was the first instructional building erected in the United States for the teaching of scientific agriculture. When it collapsed in 1918, John Beaumont (class of 1882) provided funds to erect Beaumont Tower in 1928 at the same location. The tower stands as a symbol of Michigan State's beginnings as the first land-grant college dedicated to teaching "agriculture and the mechanic arts" with a "liberal and practical curriculum."

The mace's crown is trimmed with a maple samara and acorn pattern carved from walnut, a pattern drawn from the "Michigan State College" limestone relief at the Abbot Road and other campus entrances. An image of Beaumont Tower lies in the crown's oak center. Below the crown is the cylindrical shaft, whose alternating, horizontal oak and walnut bands descend to a brass tip. Its oak is purported to be "Beaumont oak," that is, from one of the original saplings surrounding College Hall. Its walnut is from a tree removed to clear land for the Wharton Center for Performing Arts in 1982.

In its soaring verticality, Beaumont Tower continues to inspire the MSU community and is an appropriate symbol for the MSU mace. As President Robert S. Shaw (1928-1941) stated at the tower's dedication, it has served as "a unifying factor" to remind us, even through our individual activities, of the overall mission of Michigan State University to inspire us by "appealing to many of the better things in us" and to encourage us to "live up to higher standards, scholastically, socially, morally, and spiritually in all of our affairs."

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctoral gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different areas of study by tassels of the official color as established by the Intercollegiate Code. Candidates graduating from the Honors College wear a white stole with the initials "HC." Candidates graduating "With Honor" or "With High Honor" wear a gold braid.

HONORARY DEGREES

Alumnus Eli Broad, for whom MSU's Eli Broad College of Business is named, is a renowned business leader who built two Fortune 500 companies from the ground up. Not only is he a successful entrepreneur, but Mr. Broad and his wife, Edythe, are engaged in many important philanthropic endeavors. In fall 2002, Michigan State University proudly awarded Mr. Broad an honorary doctorate of humanities.

Eli Broad and his wife, Edythe, with a total gift of $28 million, have made contemporary art available to the entire Michigan State University community and those who visit us from around the globe. The Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum officially opened November 10, 2012. The world-class art museum is designed by Pritzker Prize-winning architect Zaha Hadid. For information about the facility, exhibitions, and programs, please visit <http://broadmuseum.msu.edu/>.

We tell our graduates to "Come Home Often." We hope that you, and your family, will come home often and include a visit to the Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

CHARLES WILLIAM BACHMANN

You have been at the forefront of computer science for more than 65 years, serving as an industrial researcher, developer, and manager for some of the most well known companies in the world.

From your service in World War II, where you were first exposed to computers for aiming 90 mm guns, to your recent work in helping preserve the history of software development, you have been an integral player in the industry. You are best known for your conceptual work with databases, having developed the Bachman Diagram, used to design a relational "logical" architecture for storing data.

You developed one of the first database management systems, then you developed the first multiprogramming network access to your database system. One of your most practical and far-reaching contributions derived from your leadership as chair of the Open Systems Interconnection (OSI) subcommittee of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO). That committee created the seven-layer networking model for Internet communication, which standardized communication functions among systems, without regard to their underlying internal structure.

Your work has earned you many awards, including the Turing Award from the Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) and, most recently, the National Medal of Technology and Innovation from President Barack Obama. Since your retirement, you have generously volunteered to help record the history of early software development and have contributed an oral history to the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

As an alumnus of the MSU College of Engineering, your exemplary information technology successes have added greatly to its stature. I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering from Michigan State University.

CARL FOLKE

You are a world-renowned environmental scientist who has greatly enlarged our understanding of the environment in ways that will enable us to manage our resources in a more sustainable manner.

As director of the Beijer Institute of Ecological Economics, Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences, and director of the Stockholm Resilience Center, you have been an exceptional teacher, mentor, and scholar. Through your prolific publishing and engagement, you have shaped the field of social-ecological systems and its application to environmental management and protection.

You are co-editor in chief of the journal Ecology and Society and serve on the editorial boards of fifteen international journals. Not only have you authored more than 200 articles and written or edited more than a dozen books, you have been cited by other authors a remarkable 70,000 times—an indication of your eminence among scholars.

You are a co-founder of the Resilience Alliance, an international research organization of scientists from many disciplines committed to studying the dynamics of social-ecological systems. Through your leadership, the center has had significant impacts on the field, from developing mathematical models of environmental and human systems, to conducting deep ethnographic studies of human networks and their relationship to environmental stewardship.

For your achievements, you have been elected into the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences, you have been selected as a Pew Scholar in Conservation and the Environment, and you have received the Sustainability Science Award of the Ecological Society of America.

For your influential and inspirational leadership, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

SUSAN B. GOLDBERG

You are the first woman to be editor-in-chief of National Geographic Magazine, an iconic publication with a 130-year history of global impact. In less than one year of your leadership, the magazine has been awarded two National Magazine Awards and the George Polk Award for Magazine Reporting.

You have been an executive editor of Bloomberg News in Washington, and were voted one of Washington's 11 most influential women in the media by Washingtonian magazine. You were editor of The Cleveland Plain Dealer, the largest newspaper in Ohio. You have worked at USA Today and the Detroit Free Press among other daily news publications.

You have provided leadership in the field of journalism as president of the American Society of News Editors and as a member of the board of The Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press.

As a Michigan native, with a bachelor's degree in journalism from MSU's College of Communication Arts and Sciences, you are a living example of success for the next generation of journalists. You have reinforced your commitment to those students by funding the Susan Goldberg Scholarship for the college.

For your noteworthy professionalism, leadership, and generosity, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

DARLENE CLARK HINE

You are a highly respected scholar who lives and breathes—and celebrates—the history of race, class, and gender in America.

As the John A. Hannah Professor of History at Michigan State University, you spent nearly 20 years building the reputation of your department, ultimately helping to establish a new doctoral field in comparative Black history, one of the first of its kind. While here, you published such seminal works as Black Women in White: Racial Conflict and Cooperation in the Nursing Profession and Hine Sight: Black Women and the Re-construction of American History.

You also provided leadership in your field as president of the Southern Historical Association and president of the Organization of American Historians. You garnered recognition from your peers as a Fellow at the Advanced Institute for Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Stanford University and the Emeline Bigelow Conland Fellow at Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, Harvard University.

In the decade since you left MSU, you have continuously increased your scholarly influence and heightened the respect of your peers. Now, as the Northwestern University Board of Trustees Professor of African American Studies and History, you have been inducted into the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and co-edited such influential books as Black Europe and the African Diaspora and The African-American Odyssey, vol. I, II and III.

In 2013, you were presented with the National Humanities Medal by President Barack Obama for your success in advancing understanding of the African American experience.

For your exceptional scholarship and outstanding contributions to the field of American history, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

PATRICIA MUCCI LORUSSO

As a professor of medicine and associate director of Innovative Medicine at Yale Cancer Center, you are a nationally recognized expert in developing new cancer drugs through clinical trials.

For more than 25 years, you have pioneered significant advances in medical oncology, drug development, and early phase clinical trials. Prior to your Yale appointment, you were known for your work at Wayne State University's Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute, most recently as director of the Phase I Clinical Trials Program and of the Eisenberg Center for Experimental Therapeutics.

You have served as co-chair of the National Cancer Institute (NCI) Cancer Therapy Evaluation Program (CTEP) Investigational Drug Steering Committee, the scientific committee of the American Association for Cancer Research (AACR), the education and scientific committees of the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO), and many peer-reviewed study sections and NCI committees.

You have also served as editor of the journal Investigational New Drugs and have authored more than 200 articles on cancer research in peer-reviewed journals, and written multiple book chapters.

You have earned many awards for your contributions to the field, including the 1999 Heroes of Breast Cancer Award; 2004 Bennett J. Cohen Educational Leadership Award for Medical Research; 2008 NCI Michael C. Christian Oncology Development Lectureship and Award; and the 2014 Targeted Anticancer Therapies (TAT) Honorary Award.

As an alumna of the MSU College of Osteopathic Medicine, you have inspired the next generation of oncology doctors and researchers. For your scholarship, leadership, and dedication, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

WAYNE HAROLD WOOD

As a family farmer yourself, you have spent your career passionately, supporting agriculture at the local, national, and international levels.

As president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, the largest general farm organization in a state whose agriculture industry has an economic impact of $100 billion, you have provided extraordinary vision and leadership for more than 14 years. You helped launch Michigan's Strategic Growth Initiative, part of an effort to increase Michigan's agricultural exports, increase agricultural employment, improve access to healthy foods, and create sustainable food and agriculture systems.

You have been a high-profile advocate for the environment, helping to develop the Michigan Agriculture Environmental Assurance Program (MAEAP). You set a prominent example for the farmers of Michigan by ensuring that your own farm was among the first in the state to be verified under the program.

You have fostered the next generation of farmers throughout the state, supporting both the 4-H Youth Development Program and the Michigan Future Farmers Association. Those organizations have awarded you their highest honors for your dedication and service.

You have also been a great friend to Michigan State University. Through the Farm Bureau, you provided significant support for the creation of the MSU Product Center, which has helped start or expand more than 400 businesses since 2003. Under your leadership, the Farm Bureau has created and sustained Project GREEN (Generating Research and Education to meet Economic and Environmental Needs), which has awarded more than $40 million in funding since its inception.

For the strength of your community commitment and your unstinting support for MSU, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Agriculture from Michigan State University.

HONORS

The University acknowledges candidates for the bachelor's degree who will graduate as Academic Scholars (A), from the Honors College (H), With Honor (*), or With High Honor (). Academic Scholars completed a two-year honors program including at least four honors-caliber courses. Honors College graduates are academically talented students who have participated in rigorous, highly individualized programs of study, including at least eight honors-caliber courses.

Graduation Honors: the current minimum grade point average for seniors graduating With Honor is 3.69 and those graduating With High Honor is 3.89 (which is approximately 20 percent of graduating seniors who have earned the highest grade point averages). Recognition of graduation honors in the commencement program is based on the grade point average of all work at MSU completed prior to the opening of the semester of graduation. To be eligible for graduation honors, transfer students must earn a minimum of 50 semester credits at MSU.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES AWARDS

Awards are made at fall and spring commencements to the six or more graduating seniors who achieved the highest cumulative scholarly records by the close of the preceding semester. At least three-fourths of the credits for the degree must be earned at Michigan State University with numerical grades by the close of the preceding semester. Fall, spring, and summer graduating seniors are eligible. The President of the University acts for the Board in determining the recipients of the awards.

“Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University . . . forever.”

John A. Hannah (1902-1991)
President, Michigan State University (1941-1969)

WE CONGRATULATE OUR GRADUATES. COME HOME OFTEN.
