MISSION STATEMENT

Michigan State University, a member of the Association of American Universities and one of the top 100 research universities in the world, was founded in 1855. We are an inclusive, academic community known for our traditionally strong academic disciplines and professional programs, and our liberal arts foundation. Our cross- and interdisciplinary enterprises connect the sciences, humanities, and professions in practical, sustainable, and innovative ways to address society's rapidly changing needs.

As a public, research-intensive, land-grant university funded in part by the state of Michigan, our mission is to advance knowledge and transform lives by:

- providing outstanding undergraduate, graduate, and professional education to promising, qualified students in order to prepare them to contribute fully to society as globally engaged citizen leaders
- conducting research of the highest caliber that seeks to answer questions and create solutions to expand human understanding and make a positive difference, both locally and globally
- advancing outreach, engagement, and economic development activities that are innovative, research-driven, and lead to a better quality of life for individuals and communities, at home and around the world.

From the President

CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Graduation is an important milestone. At commencement ceremonies, we celebrate our graduates and their accomplishments at Michigan State University, and we acknowledge the encouragement and support that family and other significant individuals have provided them. Reaching this milestone marks the completion of a degree program and the beginning of the next chapter in each student's life.

Graduates become part of a tradition that spans more than 160 years. As a person with a long-standing connection to Michigan State, I have had many opportunities to interact with alumni, students, faculty, and staff who, on a daily basis, are advancing knowledge and transforming lives. Although much has changed along the banks of the Red Cedar River since I first enrolled in 1970, the core values of the University remain—quality, inclusiveness, and connectivity.

MSU leads as a "community-engaged university." Our faculty and students are involved in outreach and forge partnerships to serve the public good. Through research, education, and practice, we make the world and our campus better places. To be a Spartan is to be a part of something big. There are nearly 600,000 Spartans at work on every continent, rising to practically every challenge imaginable. Every day, we make the world more sustainable, healthy, safe, and beautiful, proving again and again that "Spartans Will."

Our graduates go forth as caring global citizens, and although we bid you farewell I ask you to recall what our legendary President John A. Hannah confirmed. A special bond is forged with our graduates.

Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University ...forever.

Forever starts now. May you have a very bright future and come home often.

Sincerely,

Lou Anna Kimsey Simon Ph.D.

CONGRATULATORY LETTER

DEAR GRADUATES AND FAMILIES:

Congratulations to our graduates and your families! As President Simon encourages you to come home often, so do I!

As you may or may not know, I earned my degrees at Michigan State University. This education has served me well.

It gives me great pleasure to be here at a time when Michigan State University continues to create new opportunities at home, in the state of Michigan, and around the world. With our students and faculty, we are achieving new levels of excellence even as we face many new challenges. Our students are enthusiastic in taking advantage of the opportunities to study and to expand their views, and to grow as individuals and global citizens.

As a student of Michigan State University you are a member of a vibrant community united by the common interest we share as scholars. I hope that even after earning your degree, you will always remain members of this community—that is, be hungry to learn, to seek new knowledge, and to share and apply that knowledge for the betterment of others and to contribute to a more sustainable planet for the generations of Spartans who follow you.

As you and your families celebrate your accomplishments at Michigan State University, we join you in that celebration and wish you the best in all of your personal and professional pursuits and in your future endeavors as Spartans. May the relationships you forged here with your professors and other students continue to inspire you.

Sincerely,

June Pierce Youatt Ph.D.
Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Michigan State University, founded in 1855, is a leader in realizing the ideal of democratizing education and knowledge. Officially named the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan, it became the model for all land-grant institutions established by the Morrill Act, passed by Congress in 1862. The research and knowledge developed at land-grant institutions provides practical solutions that make a difference in the lives of individuals and in communities. Now, as a major public research university with global reach, Michigan State University continues this tradition with its commitment to advancing knowledge and transforming lives across the state, the region, and around the world.

From its beginnings on the site where Beaumont Tower now stands, the East Lansing campus has grown from 677 to 5,200 acres, and from three to 538 buildings. Today, more than 19,000 acres are used throughout Michigan for agricultural, animal, and forestry research.

MSU has more than 50,000 students from all 83 counties in Michigan, all 50 states, and more than 130 other countries. There are more than one-half million Spartan alumni living around the globe.

Since its agricultural beginnings, MSU has grown to 17 degree-granting colleges offering more than 200 programs of study, including graduate and graduate professional education. The Honors College attracts academically talented scholars and enables these students to pursue individualized, enriched programs of study.

Research funding totaled nearly $600 million in 2014-15. The top federal funding agencies include the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Other externally funded research programs include the MSU-U.S. Department of Energy Plant Research Laboratory, the Center for Advancing Microbial Risk Assessment, the Great Lakes Bioenergy Research Center, the Energy and Automotive Research Laboratory Centers, the Composite Vehicle Research Center, the U.S.-China Center for Research on Educational Excellence, the Center for Advanced Study of International Development, and the Center for International Business Education and Research.

The National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory is the premier rare isotope research facility in the nation. In December 2008, the U.S. Department of Energy selected MSU to design and establish the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams (FRIB). The proposed $730 million facility will bring together an international community of leading scientists. Their work will help unlock the mysteries of the universe and promote breakthrough applications for medicine, security, and industry.

MSU Extension reaches into all 83 counties in Michigan to provide practical, university-based knowledge. The AgBioResearch encompasses the research of more than 300 scientists in a network of 13 research centers across the state. Their work ranges from agricultural production, alternative energy and biofuel production, food safety and environmental stewardship to childhood obesity, community development, and the quality of life of Michigan youth and families.

University Outreach and Engagement connects faculty with external audiences and constituencies to address community issues through research and collaboration. MSU Global extends academic and professional degree and certificate programs to off-campus learners.

MSU is a national leader in study abroad among U.S. public universities with more than 270 programs on all continents in more than 60 countries. Nearly 3,000 MSU students participate in study abroad each year.

Michigan State University is a member of the Association of American Universities, the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities, the American Council on Education, the American Council of Learned Societies, the Council of Graduate Schools, and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation.

CEREMONY LYRICS

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O, say, can you see
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free,
and the home of the brave.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

ALMA MATER*

M.S.U., We love thy shadows,
when twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling,
o'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather,
to give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
and thy praises, M.S.U.

When from these scenes we wander,
and twilight shadows fade,
Our mem'ry still will linger,
where light and shadows played;
In the evening oft we'll gather,
and pledge our faith anew,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
and thy praises, MSU.

MSU FIGHT SONG

On the banks the Red Cedar,
is a school that's known to all;
Its specialty is winning,
and those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
all through the game they fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Go right thru' for MSU,
watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
they're fighting with a vim.
RAH! RAH! RAH!
See their team is weakening,
we're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.

*The lyrics of Alma Mater were written by Bernard Traynor (MSC Athletic Department, 1925-1927). The melody is based on Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor. It was not until March 30, 1949, after a vote by the students, that the popular song on campus known as the MSU Shadows was finally adopted as the official Alma Mater.

Lyrics by Francis Irvin Lankey (MSU Engineering, 1916).

UNIVERSITY MACE

Michigan State University is pleased to include the University mace in commencement ceremonies. The introduction of the mace, at the 2005 Founders' Day celebration and inauguration of MSU's twentieth president, serves to commemorate the sesquicentennial celebration. The University, founded in 1855, celebrated its 150th birthday in 2005. The mace was designed by University Relations and produced by Physical Plant staff.

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions with their kings. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a university's mace is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries at commencement, inaugural, and other academic ceremonial processions.

The Michigan State University mace, 42 inches in length, includes important institutional symbols in its finial, crown, and shaft. The finial depicts the circular University seal, which includes an image of "Old College Hall." This oak-carved seal derives from an 1869 State Board of Agriculture (now, Board of Trustees) authorization for a woodcut to be used as the frontispiece of the college academic catalog. College Hall, built in 1856, was the first instructional building erected in the United States for the teaching of scientific agriculture. When it collapsed in 1918, John Beaumont (class of 1882) provided funds to erect Beaumont Tower in 1928 at the same location. The tower stands as a symbol of Michigan State's beginnings as the first land-grant college dedicated to teaching "agriculture and the mechanic arts" with a "liberal and practical curriculum."

The mace's crown is trimmed with a maple samara and acorn pattern carved from walnut, a pattern drawn from the "Michigan State College" limestone relief at the Abbot Road and other campus entrances. An image of Beaumont Tower lies in the crown's oak center. Below the crown is the cylindrical shaft, whose alternating, horizontal oak and walnut bands descend to a brass tip. Its oak is purported to be "Beaumont oak," that is, from one of the original saplings surrounding College Hall. Its walnut is from a tree removed to clear land for the Wharton Center for Performing Arts in 1982.

In its soaring verticality, Beaumont Tower continues to inspire the MSU community and is an appropriate symbol for the MSU mace. As President Robert S. Shaw (1928-1941) stated at the tower's dedication, it has served as "a unifying factor" to remind us, even through our individual activities, of the overall mission of Michigan State University to inspire us by "appealing to many of the better things in us" and to encourage us to "live up to higher standards, scholastically, socially, morally, and spiritually in all of our affairs."

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, introduced an academic costume code which by design of gowns and hoods would indicate the various degrees, and which by colors would identify the various faculties.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctoral gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round, and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of the bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree (e.g., green and white for MSU). If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department of faculty to which the degree pertains.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science. Generally, the code for the velvet of the hood is the same as listed for tassels.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different areas of study by tassels of the official color as established by the Intercollegiate Code. Candidates graduating from the Honors College wear a white stole with the initials "HC." Candidates graduating "With Honor" or "With High Honor" wear a gold braid.

HONORARY DEGREES

Alumnus Eli Broad, for whom MSU's Eli Broad College of Business is named, is a renowned business leader who built two Fortune 500 companies from the ground up. Not only is he a successful entrepreneur, but Mr. Broad and his wife, Edythe, are engaged in many important philanthropic endeavors. In fall 2002, Michigan State University proudly awarded Mr. Broad an honorary doctorate of humanities.

Eli Broad and his wife, Edythe, with a total gift of $28 million, have made contemporary art available to the entire Michigan State University community and those who visit us from around the globe. The Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum officially opened November 10, 2012. The world-class art museum is designed by Pritzker Prize-winning architect Zaha Hadid. For information about the facility, exhibitions, and programs, please visit <http://broadmuseum.msu.edu/>.

We tell our graduates to "Come Home Often." We hope that you, and your family, will come home often and include a visit to the Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

KRISTINA FORD

You are a nationally known and highly esteemed urban planner, whose knowledge and experience bridges academia and government.

While you are currently a professor of professional practice at the School of International and Public Affairs at Columbia University, your various projects and assignments with the City of New Orleans since 1990 have earned you enduring respect and admiration from the community, as well as governmental and business leaders. Beginning with your role as a consultant, through your service as chief of staff for the Deputy Mayor for Facilities, Infrastructure and Community Development, you have brought keen insight and practical solutions to a city that is rich in architectural and cultural history.

When New Orleans was torn apart by Hurricane Katrina in 2005—the costliest natural disaster, as well as one of the five deadliest hurricanes, in the history of the United States—you were a professor of environmental studies at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine. But your knowledge of the city provided a basis for dispassionate analysis of the crisis situation on a national level, helping you become one of the most highly credible voices of the city's past and future.

Over your 40-year career, you have also provided significant urban planning leadership in such diverse cities as Missoula, Montana, and New York City. You have served in a variety of academic positions at such institutions as Rutgers University and New York University, and have published influential books in your field.

You received your undergraduate degree in Mathematics and Business Administration from Michigan State University and your doctoral degree in Urban and Regional Planning from the University of Michigan.

For your inspiring commitment to all people and the places in which they live, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

MONA HANNA-ATTISHA

You are an innovative community health care leader, whose dedication to the safety, health, and future well-being of the children of Flint, Michigan, has inspired international acclaim.

As director of the Hurley Medical Center Pediatric Residency Program in Flint and assistant professor of Pediatrics and Human Development for the Michigan State University College of Human Medicine, you have become a living role model for the next generation of medical professionals. Your approach—to combine medicine with public health, and bring clinical practice together with medical education—brings a grounded idealism to your students and your colleagues.

Your dedication to the idea that physicians must use their community credibility to advocate for the voiceless led you on a courageous and relentless quest. Recognizing that the levels of lead in children's blood had increased significantly from the time the city of Flint switched from using Detroit water to inadequately treated water from the Flint River in 2015, you confronted a skeptical and unresponsive bureaucracy with your results.

Your cogent research ultimately awakened state and local authorities to the tragic consequences of that change in Flint's municipal water source. Because of your work, a public health emergency was declared, and steps were taken to restore water quality, as well as address the severe and lifelong health issues that derive from lead poisoning, particularly for children. As a result of your activism on behalf of the people of Flint, you were named to the 2016 Time 100 list, capturing the 20th most influential person in the world. You accepted the honor with characteristic humility, saying "the most influential people in my world are the people of Flint—the smart, strong and resilient people of Flint. I hope this recognition continues to bring awareness to the ongoing Flint water crisis, and the very human story behind the crisis."

Your roots to this community are strong: Your medical school was Michigan State University, with clinical years in Flint. You are also a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Public Health, and received your undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan. For your dauntless commitment to protecting the health of children, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATIONS

DONALD W. MAINE

You are a community leader, educator, and philanthropist.

In your role as chancellor and president of Davenport University from 1977 to 2000, you showed remarkable strategic vision, transforming Davenport from a college that granted only associate degrees to a university that offers undergraduate and graduate degrees. Davenport also became one of the first universities in the nation to offer online bachelor's and master's degrees. You oversaw the unification of three separate colleges across the state into one, highly regarded, private, non-profit university.

Your contributions to the civic, cultural and economic life of the city of Grand Rapids, Michigan, have been considerable. You have helped drive the success of Opera Grand Rapids, Celebration on the Grand, the Public Museum of Grand Rapids (now the Van Andel Public Museum), the Grand Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Grand Rapids Economic Club.

ELLEN D. WILLIAMS

You are a world-renowned scholar and pioneer in the field of nanoscience, as well as a highly respected scientist within industry, a significant contributor to government policymaking, and an outstanding role model for the advancement of women in science.

You started your academic career in the field of surface science, having earned your undergraduate degree in chemistry at Michigan State University and your doctoral degree in chemistry at the California Institute of Technology. You then went on to become a physics professor at the University of Maryland at College Park, focused on condensed matter physics and electronic materials. At Maryland, you were named a Distinguished University Professor and served as the founding director of the National Science Foundation Materials Research Science and Engineering Center from 1996 through 2009.

You also served as chief scientist for BP for Your work on Grand Action, the region's economic development group that supported the DeVos Place and the Van Andel Arena projects, has resulted in high-profile advances for the city. You have been a champion of the region's rapidly emerging health and medical community, serving on the boards for the Van Andel Institute and the Fred Meijer Heart Center and Metropolitan Hospital. As co-chair of the Michigan State University fund-raising campaign, you helped to raise $10 million to build the College of Human Medicine's medical school in Grand Rapids.

You are also a role model for a generation of Spartans, having earned both your bachelor's and your master's degrees from Michigan State University, prior to undertaking your doctoral studies at the University of Michigan.

For your exemplary civic spirit and your tireless dedication to philanthropy, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Michigan State University.

four years, and were then named director of the U.S. Department of Energy's Advanced Research Projects Agency-Energy (ARPA-E) in 2014—a role you currently hold. Your government service also includes participation in technical assessments for the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, the Department of Defense, National Nuclear Security Administration, as well as the Department of Energy.

Among your many honors, you have been named a fellow of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. In addition to your extensive list of publications, you have served on the board of reviewing editors of Science magazine.

For the inspiring depth and breadth of your contributions to the frontiers of science, and for your success in bringing innovative ideas to both government and industry, I am pleased to award you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Michigan State University.

"Until the moment degrees are conferred and diplomas presented, a university and its students are in a temporary relationship. Either can disclaim the other at any time before that final moment. But when commencement is concluded, Michigan State University places its stamp of approval upon you. You become part of this University . . . forever."

John A. Hannah (1902-1991)
President, Michigan State University (1941-1969)
