RESTRICTION OF THE "NO SMOKING" tradition on the campus so that it shall no longer apply to the athletic field was voted by the student body at the annual elections last Saturday. Feeling that the athletic field should be purely a recreational plant, during game time at least, and that smoke would not be offensive to anyone in the open air, the majority of undergraduates, after long and careful consideration, decided to permit smoking on the field. Members of the Student Council, the M. A. C. Union Board, and the Liberal Arts Committee, as well as editor and business manager of the Holcad, were selected at the general election.

THE M. A. C. SUMMER SESSION in 1922 will open on June 26 and run until August 4, according to announcement just made by Prof. E. H. Ryder, director of the summer school work. In addition to regular work for undergraduate students in the various divisions, special courses adapted to the needs of teachers will be offered this year. The Home Economics department is preparing courses in vocational education for H. E. teachers, while work for agricultural teachers, principals and superintendents, and rural school teachers will be offered. The Summer Session has grown in numbers steadily during recent years, and a large registration is expected in June.

INTERESTING MOVING PICTURE FILMS, giving detailed instruction in automotive mechanics, were shown in the Agricultural Building on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings this week. While intended primarily for members of the special Truck and Tractor course, the films, which were obtained from the Bray Studios, New York City, were so good that they drew a large attendance from all divisions of the college. The Farmers Week parade and Alumni Homecoming films, now owned by the college, were also shown each evening.

M. A. C. STUDENTS from each town represented at the college will serve as "Boost M. A. C." committees in their home towns when they go back for the coming spring vacation. Talks in the local high schools, and securing of lists of senior high school students, together with information regarding the special abilities and inclinations of each prospective student, will be part of the duties of each returning undergraduate.

THE COLLEGE WAS REPRESENTED at a recent conference of college and university Union Boards, held at Harvard University, by W. U. Vinton, of the present senior class. Mr. Vinton gained valuable information regarding methods of handling union work in other institutions, and his reports will pave the way for greater activity and usefulness on the part of the M. A. C. Union Board.

PRESIDENT-ELECT FRIDAY was officially welcomed by the student body at a big mass meeting in the gymnasium Thursday afternoon. The building was packed by undergraduates, faculty, and townspeople who gathered for a first "glimpse" of the new executive and to extend to him a hearty reception and welcome. President Friday outlined in a general way his ideals for the college of the future, and won the complete confidence and esteem of all who heard him by his clear-cut presentation and magnetic personality.

SENIOR STUDENTS in the Veterinary Division will gain valuable field practice and experience next week when they will work with the Federal tuberculosis squad in Livingston county. Each senior will travel with a Federal inspector, serving as his assistant during the county campaign.

A NEW CONSTITUTION to govern the activities of the M. A. C. Woman's League has been drawn up and adopted by the League Cabinet, which serves as its governing board. The object of this organization is to cooperate with the Dean of Women in the regulation of all matters pertaining to the student life of M. A. C. women.

PROF. A. K. CHITTENDEN of the Forestry Department addressed the Highway Engineers Conference at Ann Arbor recently on the subject "Highway Planting in Michigan."

TWO FRESHMEN FROM EACH of the sixteen men's societies on the campus gathered at the Eunoimian House last Wednesday evening, on invitation of the Eunoimian freshmen, for a "get-acquainted" evening. The value of such meetings in bringing together the whole M. A. C. society family and developing unified college spirit can scarcely be overestimated, and it is probable that similar meetings will be sponsored as "round robin" affairs by the different societies.

EDITOR AND BUSINESS MANAGER of the Michigan Agriculturist, and officers for the coming term were elected by the Agricultural Club last Tuesday evening. An amendment to the club constitution, passed at the general elections last Saturday, provides for the election of officers each term instead of annually as has been the custom in the past.

ON MARCH 31 AND APRIL 1, M. A. C. will be host to the championship basketball teams of Michigan's smaller high schools, when the class B and class C state tournaments are held in the college gymnasium. Class A schools go to Ann Arbor for this year's tournament, M. A. C. and the University alternating in the entertainment of the different classes. Sixteen teams from each class qualify for the finals during sectional play.

President-Elect Friday Arrives at M. A. C.

David Friday arrived at East Lansing on Monday, March 13, and started preparations for the assumption on April 1 of his official duties as president of the college. Mr. Friday's wife and family came with him, a son entering the East Lansing school the day of their arrival.

While Dean R. S. Shaw will continue as acting-president until April 1, Mr. Friday will remain "on or near" the campus during the remainder of the month, studying agricultural conditions in the state and familiarizing himself with affairs of the college. This "get-acquainted" period will enable him to take over the duties of office on April 1 without any delay whatever.

DAVID FRIDAY

Indications are that a serious study of general agricultural economic conditions in Michigan, with special reference to the farmer's marketing problems, will be one of the first questions attacked by the new executive. Matters of college administration, will, of course, demand major attention at once, and it is expected that changes and additions to strengthen and broaden the scope of the institution's work will be inaugurated in the near future.

No announcements on matters of policy are being made by the President-Elect at this time, however, it being understood that such matters will be taken up on April 1, after the official assumption of office.

H. H. Halladay Elected Secretary

Herman H. Halladay, Commissioner of the Michigan State Department of Agriculture, was elected Secretary of the Michigan Agricultural College and of the State Board of Agriculture at a meeting of the State Board on Wednesday, March 15. Jacob Schepers has served as acting-secretary since the resignation of Addison M. Brown on January 1. Mr. Halladay's appointment is to take effect on April 1.

The matter of plans for the new Home Economics and Library and Administration buildings, as well as location of these buildings, was referred to the building committee of the Board. The college architect was instructed to proceed with preparation of plans in order that the building program may be brought to a head as soon as possible. Money for these two buildings was appropriated by the last session of the Michigan legislature.

The possible location of the proposed stadium was also brought up before the Board, one site across the river from the gymnasium and another on Grand River Avenue, east of the present Woman's Building being under consideration. The college engineering department was instructed to make surveys of the two sites, from the point of view of construction costs. It is probable that relative costs will influence the ultimate selection of location.

President-Elect Friday met with the Board, discussing informally certain matters of future administration of the affairs of the college. Action on matters of budget and the like was deferred until the April meeting, however, at which time Mr. Friday will be in the chair.

Missouri Paper Praises Dean F. B. Mumford '91

An account of achievements of the Missouri Agricultural College, which appeared in a recent issue of the St. Louis Star, contains a great deal of praise for F. B. Mumford '91, Dean of Agriculture in the state college.

Credit for much of the advancement made in recent years at Missouri is given Dean Mumford, who is quoted extensively throughout the article.

Friday at Detroit Luncheon

President-Elect David Friday will attend a Luncheon of the Detroit M. A. C. Association, to be held in the Palm Room of the Cadillac Hotel at 12:15 on Thursday, March 23. The meeting, which is the regular Friday noon luncheon moved up to Thursday, will be a joint gathering with the University of Michigan alumni. The price is to be eighty-five cents a plate.

Varsity Homecoming Big Success

With more than fifty monogram winners of earlier years on hand for the ceremonies, and a program which was run off perfectly, the second annual Varsity-Alumni Homecoming on March 11 was a decided success from every point of view.

True, the old-timers lost their basketball game with the ambitious undergraduate varsity, but the alumni made up in spirit and support what their champions seemed to have lost in "shooting eyes," and all went well.

After an afternoon athletic program, featuring a game between the All-Fresh and Grand Rapids Union High School basketball teams and a swimming exhibition, the varsity men adjourned to the East Lansing Masonic Temple for a joint banquet with the members of the Central Michigan Alumni Association. Short talks by prominent alumni, including Hon. L. Whitney Watkins, chairman of the State Board of Agriculture, and moving picture films of the parade during the recent Farmers Week at the college, provided entertainment after the banquet.

The basketball game, which, of course, was the real feature of the reunion, was followed by a business meeting and formal initiation of the Varsity Club. Oscar "Dutch" Miller '15, and N. O. Weil '17, were elected alumni president and secretary of the club, respectively.

A committee was appointed from among the alumni members to devise ways and means for the club to give more active support to the athletic work of the college. The executive committee of the Varsity Club in the future is to consist of the alumni and undergraduate officers and a third man to be appointed from among the alumni group. Under the new organization, the club will be able to provide greater service than ever in the past for the college in general, and its athletics in particular.

N. O. Weil '17, college field agent, handled arrangements for Varsity-Alumni Homecoming.

C. H. Peterson '15, Successful as City Manager

Reports of unusual success attained by Carl H. Peterson '15, as City Manager of Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, during the past year have been received at the alumni office. Saving of thousands of dollars to the city through efficient handling of improvement and administration affairs is indicated in reports by other Mt. Pleasant officials.

Mayor W. H. Pearce, of Mt. Pleasant, issued the following statement in regard to Peterson's work: "The city management form of government is an unqualified success, and the work of Mr. Peterson is highly creditable in making it such."

ATHLETICS

Alumni Lose to Varsity Team

The alumni basketball team, ably led by "Baldy" Spencer, went down to a glorious defeat before the varsity in the annual Alumni-Varsity game last Saturday evening. The encounter was the feature number on the "old athletes" homecoming program, and was generally voted the most entertaining game of the season.

In floor work and individual brilliance, the alumni clearly held the edge throughout the game, and in aggressiveness they were undoubtedly champions. Only in locating the ring did the worthy representatives of the "days that were" fall down, but here old eyes, grown weary from much checking of the income tax, proved a trifle dim. An altogether too conscientious referee, who insisted on seeing too much of the "inside" game, also militated seriously against the chances of "Baldy's" gang.

The score, if that is important, stood at 34 to 19, not counting the many baskets they almost made.

Fifteen alumni took part in the rumpus, and all were considerably active during their moments in the spotlight. Spencer, Frimodig, Blake Miller, Garratt and Murray started, to be replaced later by Snider, Carl Miller, "Dutch" Miller, Barr, Dodge, Hammes, Bassett, Springer, Van Dervoort, and Higbee.

The feature of the battle came in the closing minutes when Dutch Miller, cleverly hidden on the substitutes bench, slipped under the basket behind the varsity guards and tossed as easy basket. It was a brilliant bit of strategy, despite the fact that Dutch was not officially in the line-up at the time, and earned thunderous applause from the bleachers. The referee, fortunately somewhat educated by this time, closed an obliging eye.

Brewer and Dean Bissell Sent to Conference Meets

Director C. L. Brewer and Dean G. W. Bissell, chairman of the Athletic Board of Control, will represent M. A. C. in Chicago this week-end at conferences of various existing and proposed athletic conferences. The delegates, who are being sent by the Athletic Board, are under instructions not to affiliate at the present time with either the Western College Conference or the Western Inter-collegiate Conference, two new leagues being promoted by schools not in the present Western Conference.

Brewer and Bissell will also attend meetings of the Western Conference athletic directors and faculty groups, respectively. The Conference is holding its annual meetings at this time, the proposed groups selecting the same dates for their get-together meetings.

Athletic Board Considers Stadium Site

The M. A. C. Athletic Board of Control, in session Saturday afternoon, March 11, considered informally the location of the proposed athletic stadium, and instructed its stadium committee to confer with the State Board of Agriculture at once relative to stadium matters.

Three sites are under consideration at the present time. One lies across the river from the gymnasium, on what is now the college golf course. A second faces Grand River Avenue, east of the present Woman's Building, while the third location would call for the erection of a stadium in the bend of the river near the Senior House (old President Snyder residence), using the river bank as the foundation for the concrete seats of the bleachers. The last site was rather favored by the Athletic Board because of the unusual beauty of the location and because of proximity to the gymnasium. Building here would call for a diversion of the Red Cedar River into its old channel back of the present athletic field, and an engineering survey will be necessary in determining the practicability of the plan.

Action on uniform monograms and other awards for varsity men in the future was also taken by the Board, while financial reports for the year were read and approved.

Athletic Schedules Announced

Spring schedules for track and baseball varsities, and the list of engagements for the 1922 football season have been announced by Director C. L. Brewer. A glance at the games and meets listed shows that the coming seasons will set a new standard in regard to the "class" of teams met. The football season, with ten games, will be slightly longer than has been customary in the past, but a careful balancing of the games makes the schedule one which can be played through safely.

Four intercollegiates mark the track schedule. Such meets as the Drake Relays, the University of Pittsburg Intercollegiates, the Michigan State Meet, and the Western Conference Meet will take the Green and White tracksters up into "big time" competition.

CLASS NOTES

W. L. Snyder, 920 Pallister Avenue, Detroit, writes, "Have been 35 years on my job at the American Agricultural Chemical Company plant in Detroit, as chief chemist and also assistant superintendent of plant. Have two M. A. C. boys in laboratory with me, Harry Brown of class of 1907, and C. L. Gatesman of '15. My son Clifford L. Snyder, class of 1913, was married last October 4"

'88

Lyster Dewey, 4512 Ninth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., says he is "kept busy writing about fiber plants, hems, flax, henequin sisal and ramie most of the time in the Department of Agriculture." He continues that they are somewhat hampered by having to stick to facts when writing on such subjects.

Arthur B. Cordley continues at Corvallis, Oregon.

'92

George Ewing is beginning to make things stir around East Lansing and most folks know now that '92 celebrates her thirtieth anniversary this June.

'93

A. C. Burnham may be reached at 818 Longnere Building, Times Square, 1476 Broadway, New York City.

Charles H. Alexander says that business is good in his line. He lives at 532 Paris Avenue, Grand Rapids. A recent blue slip says, "Met W. A. Hamilton, 107 N. Burdick Street, Kalamazoo, yesterday (3-7-22). Smiles all the time now; he is a grandpa. Class of 1893."

'03

Francis Morrison has been very ill since last spring. He underwent an operation in the fall and was very low for a time. He rallied and is now doing fairly well. Any word from his classmates or a visit at his home at 146 Sip Avenue, Jersey City, New Jersey, will be appreciated and greatly enjoyed.

'05

Mail addressed to E. A. Wilcox at 729 Manistique Avenue, Detroit, has been returned. Can any of his worthy classmates locate him for us?

'07

Local '07-ers have held a couple of meetings and are planning a royal birthday celebration for all members of the family this June. It's their fifteenth, you know.

Emil C. Pokorny says they have plans out for a 31-family apartment building which they expect to start building soon. Mrs. Ida Pokorny is looking after the affairs of the Berkshire Hotel. They live at 849 Edison Avenue, Detroit.

'09

Benjamin Anibal may be reached at 2657 Dartmoor Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

'11

G. E. Watts doesn't answer to the address of Alma, Michigan, any more. Will someone give us the password?

'12

Aurelia Potts, formerly assistant home demonstration leader in the Upper Peninsula, is now taking up nurses training work at the University of Michigan. Her address there is Room 26, Nurses Dormitory, University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

'13

Mary S. Shafer can be reached at 420 West Allegan St., Lansing.

This comes from Harmon Wright, postmarked Buenos Aires, "I still read the Record from cover to cover and often can find little news of '13. I can't make any kick for I have never sent any in myself. Am leaving on a short trip to Chile and Peru and have hopes of getting home sometime." Wright is traveling in South America for the H. K. Mulford Company of Philadelphia.

'15

Benjamin Tonkonogy has asked to have his address changed to 783 Irving Avenue, Syracuse, N. Y.

'16

Word has just been received from E. G. Hamlin that 28 High St., Ilion, New York, will reach him for a time.

Lydia Croninger is now living at 609 Lindsey Street, South Bend, Indiana.

Helen Pratt, formerly home demonstration agent in Chippewa County is now assisting in the H. E. Extension Department at the college.

C. P. Pressley has shifted his county agent activities to Gratiot County where he is located at Ithaca.

Blake Miller, back for the Varsity Homecoming Saturday, dropped in at the office and said he is now with Merrill-Lynch and Company, investment bankers of Grand Rapids, and lives at 309 Paris Avenue, Grand Rapids.

"Happy" Hobbs gets his mail at R. 2, Box 26, Oberlin, Ohio.

Plans are being made for the fifth reunion of '17 this Commencement, and questionnaires will soon be in the hands of all the members.

Charles H. Rouse for the present may be reached at 225 Harmon Avenue, Detroit.

Anne Carson is a bacteriologist at the Tower Branch of the Detroit Creamery Company. She lives at 119 Davison Avenue, Highland Park.

"Hello: Please address my Record to 12 Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. Thanks. T. W. Keating."

'19

Some more Detroit folks lost. William Wood Jr. and Ruby Clinton Wood formerly at 230 Emerson Avenue, are no longer classed among those present. Information welcomed. Etc.

John B. Donovan '19 and '21, is working under the county engineer, Ralph Ulbright '16, on highway construction, at Sandusky, Michigan.
