Jots from the State Fair.

The exhibit of the College and Experiment Station at the State Fair justly attracted a good deal of attention. The exhibit of the mechanical department was the first to meet the eye as the visitor entered the door of the alcove of the main building in which the exhibit was installed. The comments of the passing crowd were to the effect that they didn't see how boys could do that sort of thing. Mechanics from the city came inside the railing, examined the work critically, and went away praising the practical character of the instruction given. One mechanic was especially pleased with the pattern making, another with the accuracy and perfection of the work in iron and steel. The material had been wisely arranged by Mr. Newman, illustrating the work of the College along that line, and the impression left on the crowd was very gratifying.

Next came the analysis of beets by Mr. A. N. Clark who maintained a "continuous performance" showing how beets are tested for sugar content and purity of juice at a factory. This phase of the College work was shown at the suggestion of the department of State and proved to be one of the most taking things in the whole exhibit. The beets were sent in to the department exhibit across the aisle at the invitation of O. C. Howe '83, head of the division of statistics of the office of Secretary of State, and were analyzed by Mr. Clark to illustrate to the farmer how the thing is done in a factory. There was a crowd about this table all the time.

The main part of the College exhibit in this building was brought together and put in place by Prof. J. D. Towar. Among the interesting articles representing the work for the College and Station a few only can be mentioned here. The large chart upon which was shown the sugar content and purity of the beets grown in the several counties of the state in 1891 from seed imported by the College at the insistence of Dr. Kedzie, revealed to the many interested business men the fact that it is to the College that the state owes the inception of the beet sugar industry. No factory has been built without first looking up this work and that subsequently performed in 1897. This fact the factories cheerfully acknowledge and the farmers themselves are beginning to realize this, another debt due the institution.

The varieties of wheat, the new legumes, the dynamometer and chart showing the draft of wagons under varying conditions, the diseases of sugar beets and finally the illustrations of the relative values of certain methods of fertilization on muck lands, were important and interesting factors in making up the display. Much credit is due Prof. Towar for his skill and judgment in selecting the representative materials and exhibiting them to the best advantage.

J. M. Rankin, the "Bee-man" of the Experiment station, was the assistant superintendent of the dairy and bee department of the fair. He reports that the prizes in butter and cheese were won by persons who had taken the special courses at M. A. C. The first prize cheese was made by Miss Murphy of Lowell, who was in the special cheese class in 1897; and the first prize butter by Mr. A. R. Pierce, a student in the special dairy course in 1895. The Butter scored 97½ per cent.—C. D. S.

Seniors at the Fair.

Those of the senior agricultural students who were able to leave their work here, attended the State fair at Grand Rapids last Tuesday. They were accompanied by Prof. Mumford, who was judge of sheep at the fair. Their purpose was to meet the judges on live stock, watch them at their work and gain a better idea of their methods, and to study, for themselves, the stock exhibited. The exhibits of stock were fine. Prominent among them were an exhibit of Percheron and French Coach horses by Dunham, Fletcher and Coleman of Wayne, Illinois; the famous Aaron Barber herd of Shorthorns from Avon, New York, now owned by W. A. Boland of Grass Lake, Mich.; and a flock of Lincoln sheep by J. H. and E. Patrick of Ilderton, Canada. This was said to be the best exhibit of Lincolns ever seen in Michigan and is probably the best show flock in America today. After spending all Tuesday at the fair, the class returned Tuesday night, feeling well repaid for their trip. P. T.

Tartaric Acid in Juice of Grapes in 1899.

BY R. C. KEDZIE.

I received the following letter, with a small packet of peculiar appearance, last evening:

IONIA, Sept. 27, 1899.
Chemist of Agricultural College:

Herein find a sample and I would like to know what it is. I think it is out of granulated sugar which I was trying to melt down in some grape juice, and it would not melt, so I washed it out and dried it again and this is it.

Hoping to hear from you,
T. W.

The material that puzzled my friend Thomas is "cream tartar," or acid tartrate of potash, the crystals colored of a purple hue by the grape juice.

The most abundant acid in grapes in Michigan in ordinary seasons is the malic acid, so called because it is so abundant in apples. The presence of malic instead of tartaric acid in the grape juice of ordinary seasons, on fermenting produces a liquor of the cider class in place of wine. To make real wine there must be the presence of tartaric acid in the juice.

In hot seasons approximating tropical weather we occasionally find that the grapes produce the real tartaric acid in place of malic, and thus become genuine wine grapes. This is the third season within fifty years when I have found a large preponderance of tartaric acid in the ripe grapes. I first noticed it in 1856, then in 1872, and now in 1899. In 1872 the grape jelly formed large crystals of tartrate of potash. Probably the grape jelly of this year will show similar crystals within a few weeks.

The condition of the grapes this fall shows that they are better fitted for making wine than the grapes of a cooler season.

Plans for the Botanical Club.

The Botanical Club will meet hereafter on Tuesday evenings at the usual hour, 6:30 p. m., in the botanical laboratory, instead of on Monday as formerly.

The executive committee has outlined the work for the term and some interesting programs have been prepared. Among those who will give talks or lectures are, Dr. Beal, Profs. Hedrick, Wheeler, and Pettit, Dr. Marshall, and Messrs. Longyear, Gunson, Skeels, and Barlow. A series of biographical sketches of some of the principal botanists of Europe and America will also be given at times during the term.

Mr. Longyear will talk on mushrooms, this evening, October 3.

The First Football Game.

It might have been worse. It was worse last year—thirteen worse. The fact that Notre Dame on home grounds defeated M. A. C. 40 to 0 last Saturday is not discouraging when all the conditions are taken into consideration. In the first place the Notre Dame team outweighed ours by at least 15 pounds per man; their center stands 6 ft. 6 in. and weighs 250 pounds; ours tips the scales at 181 pounds. Secondly, they have been practicing longer and have had several games, while our team was playing its first game.

The fact that our team played hard, steady football, without fumbles or flukes, is very gratifying. Notre Dame had to work hard for every touchdown and was surprised not to run up a larger score, claiming to have a stronger team than the one that played us last year.

Our principal weakness was a lack of interference. End plays were out of the question. Russell made but two gains and Crosby not any around the ends. While this is to be deplored, it is not surprising; it was well known that our "scrubs" could break up the first eleven interference for end plays.

Our strength, what there was of it, was in steadiness. Ranney was in every play; Baker and Curtis did excellent defensive work, and the latter made several good gains; Rork, a new man, showed unexpected strength at end, and blocked both of Notre Dame's attempted place-kicks; and A. H. Case showed up well for a new man.

The line-up of our team was as follows: McLouth, center; Skinner, right guard; A. H. Case, left guard; Parks, right tackle; Curtis and Travis, left tackle; Rork, right end; Baker and Smith, left end; Captain Ranney, quarter-back; Crosby, right half-back; Russell, left half-back; Lundy, full-back; R. W. Case, McCue and Bommer-schein, substitutes.

In this game eight of the boys, McLouth, Skinner, A. H. Case, Travis, Rork, Baker, Crosby and Lundy, won their M. A. C. monograms, and all gained valuable experience that will stand them in hand in their game with the D. A. C. eleven in Detroit next Saturday.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Mr. H. W. Rose, visiting college secretary for the middle west, gave us a visit last Thursday, conducting the Thursday evening meeting. This visit, as have been former ones, was very profitable for the Association.

About 40 have already been enrolled in the Bible classes, and the outlook for the Mission study class is promising.

The Mission study class will meet in the associations rooms next Friday night at 6:30.

The Handbooks are out. If one is not given you soon, call at Room 29, Williams Hall, or Room 132, Abbot Hall, and get one.

Our membership has passed the 100 mark.

Prof. Hedrick's Bible class, "Apostolic Age," meets each Sunday at 8:30 in his office on the second floor of College Hall; Mr. Wells' class, "Life of Christ," meets each Sunday at 4 o'clock in the Association rooms. Later announcements will be made concerning the other classes as formed.

College Sports.

The Pennsylvania guards and backs are being given regular practice at place-kicking.

Yale and Harvard will meet in Cambridge on Nov. 18. Princeton will meet Yale in New Haven Nov. 25.

Illinois university will use Cayou, the Indian half-back, who was on the famous Carlisle eleven last year and the year before.

Paced by a motor tandem Walter T. Smith, a 14-year-old bicycle rider of Brooklyn, lowered the amateur record for one mile to 1:36 2-5 at New York.

Duffy, the schoolboy sprinter, who did the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds, has entered Princeton and it is expected will be on the Princeton team for the Paris games next summer.

Seven of last year's Carlisle Indian players are to play this year, including the famous little drop-kicking quarter-back Hudson. They will be coached by Warner, the old Cornell guard. Billy Bull has gone to Yale to help coach the team of his alma mater.

Keene Fitzpatrick, just back at Ann Arbor, thinks he would like to take a team of five or six or more Michigan university athletes over to the Olympian games in Paris next year. He is already talking up the matter. Eastern universities are planning to have teams, so is Stagg, of Chicago university.

Proceedings of the Board.

The State Board of Agriculture met at the Morton House in Grand Rapids last Tuesday evening. The bids for constructing a new dormitory for women at the College were found to be from the following contractors: Chittenden and Skinner, Lansing; William J. Spear, Toledo; A. W. Monke, Grand Rapids; Campbell and McNabb, Grand Rapids; Schmidt-Jacobson Building Co., Detroit; H. George & Son, Detroit; John Finn, Detroit; G. Rickman & Sons, Kalamazoo; and G. S. Germain, Port Huron. All of the bids, however, were above the appropriation and no contract was awarded. For the plumbing contract there were two bidders, H. H. and S. H. Avery, Jackson, and Shields and Leadley, Lansing. These also were left for later consideration.

The Upper Peninsula experiment station provided for by the last legislature, was located at Chatham, Alger Co., with the understanding that certain conditions to be stipulated by the Board shall be complied with. It is thought that the soil and climate at Chatham are typical of conditions in the Upper Peninsula in general. The ballot on the location of this station was secret and unanimous.

The action of Pres. Snyder in employing Mrs. L. E. Landon to teach in the English department and Abraham Knechtel in the department of mathematics was approved.

The resignation of Mr. A. L. Westcott as instructor in mechanical engineering was accepted. The Board also authorized the employment of a successor to Mr. Westcott, at $1,000 and room, or an equivalent of $11.50 per year.

The resignation of Mr. C. H. Alvord as farm foreman was received and laid on the table. Mr. E. R. Blair, once foreman on the J. M. Turner stock farm, was elected farm foreman. In this connection the Board adopted a resolution to no longer provide house furnishings in the farm house.

The removal of dead timber from the forest in No. 19 was authorized.

The matter of keeping a horse for the use of officials on the farm department was referred to the farm committee to report at the next meeting.

On motion the question of time for the short course in cheese making was referred to Pres. Snyder and Dean Smith.

Miss Louzena Kellum was elected stenographer for the experiment station and farmer's institutes, and Mr. B. A. Faunce, clerk to Pres. Snyder.

The request of Mrs. M. A. Wright to have her property, known as "Brooks' Addition to the Delta," connected with the College water and electric light systems was referred to a committee composed of Capt. Allen and Mr. Marsh.

On motion it was decided that the College will furnish coal at cost to employees of the College living on the grounds or in the immediate vicinity and to no others under any circumstances.

The matriculation fee for students entering any of the short courses was fixed at $2.50, with the provision that in case any duly matriculated student in a short course should enter one of the regular courses, he shall be required to pay an additional matriculation fee of only $2.50.

On motion it was resolved that all students be required to wear uniform at drill.

The Board took a recess, to meet at the College this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30, at which time the bids on the woman's building will be considered further.

At the College.

Snow fell Friday.

Apple picking is well under way.

Advertised letters: Prof. B. C. Waldenmaier, Claud Wilkinson.

The Saturday State Republican contained the names and addresses of all our students.

Prof. Bemies returned to College Thursday, bringing with him his wife and two children.

Irving Gingrich '01, 46 Williams, is giving private vocal lessons to a few students and has room for a few more.

Two works on chemistry, one by Hjelt the other by Bernthsen are missing from the library. They are wanted.

Mr. Pettit cut a deep gash in the back of his head Friday by falling from a chair and striking his head on a radiator.

The consignment of Holland bulbs ordered the first of last May from Jacobus Keur of Haarlem, Holland, was received at the greenhouse last Friday.

Hon. I. H. Butterfield has been re-elected secretary of the State Agricultural Society, and F. E. Skeels '78 is again a member of the executive committee.

Superintendent of Buildings Lohman has fitted up an office in "The Den," east end of Howard Terrace, third floor, where he can oversee the work on the new women's building.

Miss Fay Wheeler and Miss Pearl Kedzie go to Chicago the latter part of this week. After a short visit in Chicago Miss Kedzie will visit her aunt, Mrs. Nellie Kedzie at Peoria. Miss Wheeler will spend a month at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Woodward and then go to Washington, D. C.

Two M. A. C. Men in the Philippines.

A letter from John P. Finley '73, dated Manila, August 24, has just reached us. Mr. Finley is captain of the 9th U. S. Infantry, now serving in the Philippines, and writes: "Even the briefest note from the States is most acceptable. Glad to hear from the old college, whose associations are ever dear to me."

We also have a note from our first commandant of cadets, now Captain J. A. Lockwood, of the 4th Cavalry, at present in the service of the U. S. at Manila.

When summer time was ended, and
She packed her trunks again,
It took two heavy baggage trucks
To haul them to the train.
But when she found her bathing suit
Still hanging on a nail,
She put it in an envelope
And sent it home by mail.

—Ex.

A goat one fine day ate a poster girl gay
And the billy's digestion grew bad;
But, most strange to relate, he was cured
when he ate
A bit of dyspepsia cure "ad."
