M. A. C. FOOTBALL SQUAD.

M. A. C. SCORES ON MICHIGAN.

In one of the greatest and best played games seen at Ann Arbor for a long time, M. A. C. was given the small side of a score 3-6 Saturday afternoon. Nearly 10,000 people witnessed the game, and between 2,500 and 3,000 of the number were on M. A. C. bleachers. This number included students and their friends from surrounding country, and about 500 from Detroit. The day was ideal for the trip, and most of the students who went took the train in the Farm Lane at 9:25, accompanied by the band and the bear.

During the first few minutes of the game the maize and blue had a slight advantage in the contest, but M. A. C. then settled to business and played one of the greatest games, showing team work far superior to that of their opponents, whose individual playing was fast, but, as a team, showed lack of organization. Had it not been for the severe penalties handed M. A. C., Michigan would have been the loser in Saturday's contest by a very decisive score.

The first quarter ended no score, with the ball in M. A. C.'s hands. In the second they worked the ball away from danger, Exelby carrying the ball often and always doing good work. Punting was resorted to, but Michigan men were downed almost as soon as they caught the ball. Michigan's interference was broken up time after time, kicks were blocked, and M. A. C. was doing splendid work against great odds, and the half ended without a score.

The third quarter started off well for Michigan, but they were stopped after 22 yds. gain, and forced to punt. Much fumbling followed. Michigan finally attempted a punt which was blocked by Campbell, who broke through the line and met the oval, sending it back to the 12 yd. line where it was seized by our own team. Two attempts failed to make the required distance, and Hill dropped back and kicked a field goal, making the first points of the great game. The sensation of the day then happened, when Hill took the ball from the kick off on his own 15 yd. line and ran 90 yards for a touchdown. When the score was made, however, it suddenly dawned on the official that a man had been holding, and the ball was not only returned, but M. A. C. penalized 15 yards.

The University count came in the last few moments of play, and again it was penalties which gave it to them. With only one to five yards to gain, M. A. C. held them for five downs and the rooters went wild. Then Conklin dropped back as for a place kick, and M. A. C. shifted accordingly, when Green took the ball and went over the line for their only touchdown.

The line-up:

M. A. C.		MICHIGAN.
McWilliams	C	Bogle
Leonardson	R. G.	Conklin
Pingle
Baldwin	L. G.	Benbrook
Pattison	R. T.	Wells
Campbell	L. T.	Edmunds
Montfort	R. E.	Pattengil
Stone	L. E.	Boerske
Riblet	Q	McMillan
Cortright	L. H.	Magidshon
Hill	R. H.	Green
Exelby	F. B.	Thompson

NOTES ON THE GAME.

Exelby went into the game with great spirit, and put up one of the finest games ever played anywhere by anyone.

The punt blocking by Campbell was a feature, and was directly responsible for the score by M. A. C. Nearly 1,000 persons accompanied the team from Lansing and the college.

The whole team, although outweighed 25 to 30 pounds to the man, played good ball every minute. Michigan did not.

"It was a big game, and one that the Michiganders will not forget right away. It will do them good, if anything, because it is the second time within the last two weeks that the importance of better organization has been brought home to the men in a much stronger manner than the coaches could ever accomplish by mere arguing. As for M. A. C.—well, to the men who played on that eleven, much honor is due. They played good football, and if that institution continues to turn out such teams it will not be many years before the Michigan Agricultural college is a big factor in western football."—Detroit Tribune.

LAKE FOREST.

And now the cry is "on to Lake Forest." The football team from the above institution will be here on next Saturday for the third home game of the season. They are one of the strong college teams, and last year won the championship of the college league, which league is made up of all the colleges outside the western conference. It will, without doubt, be one of the best games on the home ground this year.

The game will probably be called at 2:30 p. m., although this is not definitely settled.

Burt Kennedy, who used to coach Oliver's teams, is in charge of the Lake Forest boys. Many of our former players will remember Kennedy and Oliver, when M. A. C. was one of the six intercollegiate colleges.

FARMERS' CLUB.

The first meeting of the club was held Tuesday evening, Oct. 11, the seniors having charge of the same. The subject for discussion was Methods of Irrigation. Mr. H. Knoblach spoke of the work of irrigation as supervised by the general government, including surveys, building of gates, falls, etc., and Mr. Chas. Frey discussed the actual application of water to the land by the individual owner. Pres. Shanon gave an interesting account of a trip in Wyoming, taken during the past summer.

Prof. W. H. French will address the club at a meeting on Oct. 18.

MASS MEETING.

A rousing mass meeting was held in the armory Friday evening when the final touches were given the preparations for the trip to Ann Arbor.

"Jimmie" Hayes was master of ceremonies and introduced the various speakers and songs in a creditable manner. Manager Lindemann first gave a talk in which he explained the plans for the big excursion, and gave directions for having the most fun.

Dean Gilchrist assured the team that the girls would go, would look their prettiest, and do their share of rooting. She felt sure they could "Hold, M. A. C."

Lieut. Holley's talk was received with enthusiasm. He stated that each season Mr. Brewer took from him about 40 men for the football squad, which by the way, left him less of work to do. If he could only be excused from drill and placed on the squad also it would be entirely to his liking.

Mr. Brewer was called for and responded by stating that, if the rooters would be loyal, the team would not be licked no matter what the score might be. It was to be the hardest game of the season and the support of every M. A. C. rooter was needed.

The various yells were practiced, songs sung and with Prof. Myers as operator about 25 lantern slides were used. These consisted of the various songs and yells, pictures of the squad, and team in action, etc.

"What's the matter with Brewer, he's a brick," seemed to be the most popular song.

One of the best shown was that taken of the Alma-M. A. C. game by Le Clear and donated for this occasion. Fat Scriber acted as yell master but introduced a new man who showed splendid ability along this line and one who would help at the big game. Enthusiasm ran high and many were the votes to "go just this once."

FORESTRY.

The regular meeting of the Forestry club was held in the entomology lecture room. The success of the meeting can well be attributed to the kindness of G. U. Branch and Prof. Pettit. Mr. Branch showed nearly 100 good stereoptican views of Yellowstone National Park, and gave an excellent description of each one. R. P. Holdsworth then discussed the work of the summer school at Higgins Lake, after which the club adjourned to the dairy building, where the Roscommon chorus furnished music and all participated in the refreshments.

Exceptional good programs have been prepared by the club for the year and a special invitation is given to freshmen and sophomores to be in attendance at every meeting.

DR. Marion Le Roy Burton was inaugurated president of Smith College at Northampton, on Oct. 5, with appropriate ceremonies. Among the speakers to have a part was Pres. Cyrus Northrop of the University of Minnesota. Pres. Northrop gave his views on the subject of education for women, and they seem so thoroughly good that we take the liberty to publish the following excerpt from the Springfield Republican, in which paper a full report of the inauguration appeared:

"President Northrop discussed coeducation on the ground that it was not desirable for eastern colleges, established on another plan, but had been found of much advantage in the educational institutions of the West. Speaking of what might possibly be lost to girls who spend a number of years in the work of preparatory schools and colleges, instead of home training, President Northrop said: 'What kind is the right kind?' 'Well, I would not train women with direct reference to future service in professions as we train men. I would train women first of all with reference to their duties as wife and mother. I would teach them all that the laboratory of the home used to teach them. I would have them understand how to make home comfortable and charming—but comfortable first. Good cooking is important. I would teach women how to cook, and every girl graduate should know enough to be free from servitude to that modern despot, the hired cook, who never knows half as much as she thinks she does. I would teach the girls in college all that in domestic economy, household economics, is necessary for them to understand in order that they may be really mistress of their own home—whether they have many servants or none.'"

VETERINARY SCIENCE.

The technical work of the freshmen and sophomore years of the agricultural and forestry courses has been revised on account of the introduction of the new veterinary course which will follow the same schedule up to the winter term of the sophomore year.

The revised course permits of specialization at the beginning of the winter term, sophomore year, at which time separation may be made into three groups, agriculture and horticulture, forestry, and veterinary science. The agricultural and horticultural students will separate at the beginning of the junior year as before.

He has been in Three Rivers since, where he has built up a strong church. The Benton Harbor charge is an important one. The building is undergoing extensive improvements and a $3,000 organ is being installed.

Francis O'Gara wants to become a member of our RECORD family, and we are certainly glad to welcome "Pat," the once famous football manager, and trust he will enjoy the associations. He is now branch superintendent in the construction of a transcontinental railway 300 miles from any where, but can be reached at No. 4, District C, by way of Cochrane, Ont., care of Transcontinental Railway.

My Dear Mr. Faunce:

Your letter received some time ago, followed by the catalog, was very welcome, and it certainly seemed like old times. It seems to be a failing of M. A. C. people to want to get back to the old college again, and just about now I am thinking of that football squad working out with Coach Brewer, and what the prospects are for as good a team as that of last year. The old line wont be there to hold Michigan, and I hope another will do as well as in '08.

At present the game we are playing here is as old as time, and still being developed. It is my privilege as well as pleasure, owing to the scarcity of officers in the Coast Artillery Corps, to be in command of the 89th Co., C. A. C., and also of a battery of two six-inch disappearing rifles. This is considerably more responsibility than a second lieutenant is entitled to, but I am fortunate in having a good company, which helped out. We have our target practice next week, and at this time we fire thirteen shots at a target 30 feet high by 60 feet long, towed by a tug, at a range of three miles. Our projectile weighs 106 lbs., and has a velocity of 2600 feet per second when it leaves the muzzle. The complicated calculations which are necessary in this work are the results of years of study on the part of many distinguished students of ballistics and ordnance, and you can see that the field for study and investigation on the part of young officers is unlimited.

The life of the army to me is intensely interesting, and I would not change places with any one I know of. There is just enough of the spirit of football in it, with the danger, etc., to make it exciting.

W. D. FRAZER.
