THE PASMORE TRIO.

COLLEGE ARMORY, FEBRUARY 15

The concert of the Pasmore Trio, when this company has come, and gone, will be looked upon as one of the finest musical treats of the year. This company is capable of presenting the most classical music in a way that gets hold of its audience which is, of course, far from being an ordinary accomplishment. The instrumental work of this company is rendered upon the piano, cello and violin, both in solos on each instrument and trio of the three.

As to the vocal work, Charles Edward Clark, with the Pasmore Trio, is one of the greatest baritone voices of the age. Mr. Clark's early musical education was acquired at the Toronto Conservatory of Music. Afterwards he went to Europe, studying with the best teachers of London and Paris and fitting himself for the career in which he has achieved such a remarkable success both at home and abroad. He has a superb voice of unusual compass and sweetness and he sings with a perfect enunciation, that is so highly appreciated by all cultured audiences.

THE PENMAN.

The Penman held an informal reception and banquet Tuesday evening, which proved enjoyable and also instructive. The guest of honor and speaker of the evening was Mr. H. M. Nimmo, editor and publisher of The Detroit Saturday Night. Other guests who were present were Pres. Snyder, Deans Shaw and Bissell, Sec. Brown, Dr. Blaisdell, and G. M. Goodell, of Lansing.

Zeeland Goodell acted in the capacity of toastmaster and called on Pres. Snyder, Dean Shaw and Dean Bissell who responded with two minute talks.

Mr. Nimmo then gave a very interesting and instructive talk along the lines of newspaper work, both concerning the present and also the future prospects. He believes that sensationalism, graft, and improper advertising are doomed, and that they will gradually be forced out of the leading papers of the day. Public opinion demands it, and people usually get what they want if they only go after it hard enough. The reporter will in the future, not only be the spinal column of the press, but he will be the best paid man in the business. The man who can gather the proper kind of news and place it before the people in a rational and reasonable manner, is the man who is coming to be in demand.

The press, said the speaker, wields a powerful influence, and the field for doing good work is broad indeed. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Nimmo at the close of his address. It is planned to have other speakers from time to time and the outlook is certainly encouraging for the organization.

ORATORICAL.

The twenty-fourth annual oratorical contest was held in the college chapel Saturday evening, February 4. It is a lamentable fact that so few of our students and college people generally turned out to hear the five splendid orations given. Following is the program:

Music, M. A. C. Orchestra.
Political Progression, Irvin T. Pickford, Forensic Society.
The Future American, G. H. Collingwood, Eclectic Society.
The Newer Justice, K. D. Van Wagenen, Union Literary Society.
Vocal Solo, Miss Mae Herbert.
The American University, John Bowditch, Jr., Columbian Society.
The Eternal Principle, H. W. Hough, Eunomian Society.
Vocal Solo, Miss Mae Herbert.
Decision of Judges.

The judges for the evening were Rev. H. C. Wilson and Rev. O. J. Price of Lansing, and Sec. A. M. Brown, Prof. E. A. Bessey and Rev. Robt. Goldsmith of East Lansing.

The oration "The Newer Justice" was awarded first place, "The Future American" second, and "The American University" third. Mr. Van Wagenen will represent the college at the intercollegiate held at Ypsilanti on March 3. The winner compared the method of subduing crime by the blue coated, high handed law with that of the juvenile courts as established by Judge Lindsay. In the former method, the boys are made to feel that they are criminals, crime is fostered and a desire for revenge is created, the result of which is still greater crime when the offender is released. In the "newer justice" the boy is made to feel that something is expected of him. He is not called a criminal, but one who has simply made a mistake and measures are taken to show him the contrast between right and wrong.

Every oration was well given and presented a multitude of excellent thoughts. Great credit is due the men who presented them and also to those who have had this work in charge.

GREETING FROM PORTLAND, OREGON.

President Snyder received the following telegram on Tuesday, January 31:

"Portland M. A. C. organized tonight. Sixteen members send greeting."

The telegram was signed by F. E. Mangold, '05, as secretary. Thus is added another association of M. A. C. men and women, and any who contemplate visiting Portland will be made welcome to this association. This is one of the splendid features of these associations throughout the country and it stands our alumni in hand to keep in touch with them. We hope to be able soon to publish a complete list of the charter members of the new association and shall expect reports from their meetings from time to time.

CHICAGO M. A. C. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL REUNION FEB. 25, AT LEWIS INSTITUTE.

The annual reunion is one of the activities of the Chicago M. A. C. Association, and probably no stronger fraternal bond exists than that which is evident from the constant, quiet work which is going on here in promoting the welfare of the members of the association. An earnest effort is made to get in touch with every M. A. C. fellow as soon as possible. Everyone who has been in any way connected with M. A. C. is a member, and the membership includes residents of the territory tributary to Chicago.

The date for the 15th annual reunion was set by the general committee for Saturday, Feb. 25, and the place selected is the Lewis Institute, Robey and Madison Sts. Arrangements are now being made for an informal dinner which will be served about 7 o'clock, to be followed by short speeches, music and dancing. A good crowd is expected.

Swift, my oldest son, is an architect at Flint. He spent a year at M. A. C. Marcus, my youngest son, one year at M. A. C., is working up a model farm (80 acres) near this place. He is the only boy who likes this kind of work."

Please change the address of my paper from Caro, Mich., to Gagetown, Mich., R. F. D. No. 1, and oblige

"ALABAMA."

An event of unusual interest and significance is to take place in the M. A. C. armory Friday evening, Feb. 17th. The romantic southern play of Alabama, by Augustus Thomas, is to be presented by a carefully selected company of amateurs composed of members of the faculty. It is to be under the auspices of the Woman's club of East Lansing, and the proceeds, the admission price being very moderate, are to be used to establish a loan fund for the women students. Such a fund has been very much needed, for occasionally a young woman student, who is partially or wholly dependent upon her own resources for her college education, finds towards the close of her work that the effort has been too great and she has to either give up her much desired object or receive financial support. The fund would be drawn upon in such cases and the money loaned or in some beneficial way to be decided upon. The Woman's Club has been a very potent influence in the community, and this is another one of its laudable undertakings which should have the hearty support of the public, including the students of the college.

The play in question is one of the very best of modern American plays. It deals with southern life and conditions during a time just succeeding the reconstruction period. It is full of local atmosphere, and clear drawn southern types of character. It is homely and simple in its theme, abounds in human interest and has a high ethical tone. It has had very careful study ever since college opened in the fall by the company who are to present it, and they promise a very smooth artistic performance. The caste consists of twelve people, some of whom have appeared before at the college in a similar capacity, others again who are new; most of them have had experience in dramatic interpretation. It is hoped that the interest in the presentation of the play and the disposition of the proceeds will call out a large audience, and that it may, moreover, be made the social event of the season.

WINTER BIRDS.

The winter has proven unusual as regards the number of northern birds which have visited us. In addition to the evening grosbeaks, which are still here in considerable numbers, several flocks of pin grosbeaks are wintering in the vicinity, and red polls have been numerous all winter.

It has been interesting to note on the campus at the same time specimens of the two grosbeaks just named, the cardinal, and the cardinal grosbeak which is found with us in small numbers both summer and winter. It is, however, a southern specie, reaching its northern limit at about this latitude.

HORT. CLUB.

Mr. Wm. Krieger, of Lansing, addressed the Hort. Club, February 1, on green house industry. Mr. Krieger belonged to the class of 1902 and was one of the 14 charter members of the Hort. Club. These men are now scattered all over the world; one is a professor of horticulture in the Colorado Agricultural College; another is teacher of horticulture in a government school in South America; the others are employed as follows: manager of an Oregon orchard company; manager of a green house company in Indiana; clerk in the department of agriculture; business man in England; business man in Australia; fruit grower near Traverse City; business man of Boston; landscape gardener in Detroit; editor of the Michigan Farmer; and editor of the Prairie Farmer.

Mr. Krieger has been in the green house business since he graduated, and from a small beginning has worked up to a large and profitable business. He says that the theories taught by this college are practical, because the man with a theory will become practical, and the theory and practice will work hand in hand. In buying property get near a good local and shipping market, and in building green houses construct for convenience, as labor is scarce. A carrier for changing the soil is a practical and inexpensive method. The semi-iron frame is the best and cheapest in the end as it requires no repairs and will stand through the hardest wind and snow storms. Semi-solid benches are desirable and concrete is the cheapest material for their construction, but cross-ties are unnecessary if they are properly reinforced. Mr. Krieger built his first house 20 x 50 feet for raising lettuce, and later started, raising bedding plants and geraniums. This year he will raise about 7,000 geraniums for the Lansing trade. A fine sand is used for the cuttings, as it has a greater capacity for holding water. Grit and nerve are essential to success. Once Mr. Krieger only picked one flower from 3,000 chrysanthemum plants, that he had carefully tended, and such things are conducive to discouragement. An interest should be shown in all customers, teach them the difference between good and inferior stock. Honesty will build up a good trade. Mr. Krieger ships most of his flowers to Chicago, and receives from one-third of a cent to four cents a piece for carnations, depending upon the honesty of the commission merchant.

Mr. Itano gave the history of the Starks Delicious apple, and Mr. McCarthy, the history of King David.

On Feb. 14 at the Forestry Club J. H. McCutcheon will speak on Forest Conditions in Oregon and Z. C. Goodell on Work on Minn. Nat. Forests.

Mr. W. R. Otis, of Frankfort, has entered college for special work in poultry culture. Mr. Otis has been a student at both Oberlin and Olivet colleges.

The Union Lits. held an alumni party in their society house Friday evening. Local and Lansing alumni were guests. A luncheon was served and a number of excellent toasts were given. In addition a fine program was carried out.

The military hop will be given Saturday night of this week in the armory. Baker's orchestra (formerly with the Bijou), of nine pieces will furnish the music. Pres. and Mrs. Snyder and Prof. and Mrs. Kedzie will be patrons. The grand march will start promptly at 7:30.

The basketball team lost out in their games with Armour and Lake Forest last week. Capt. Busch received an injury to his hand at the Detroit Y. M. C. A. game which put him out of the running in the above named places. The L. F. game stood 26 to 26 at the end of the second half, and in the extra five minutes played M. A. C. lost by one basket.

Mrs. C. J. Bird died at her home on Sycamore St., Lansing, on Wednesday of last week after an illness of ten days. Mrs. Bird was the mother of Ralph Bird, '06, and Ford M., '13.

The first M. A. C. Poultry Institute will be held next week. A good program has been arranged, a number of speakers from outside will be present, and indications are that there will be a good showing of birds.

The four-act comedy "Esmeralda," given by the M. A. C. Dramatic Club Friday evening was a decided success. Every part was acted well and a good crowd witnessed the play. Prof. King has had charge of the rehearsals and great credit is due him for the manner in which the play was carried out. Every one who attended was highly pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The Feronian party held in the armory Saturday evening was a decided success, about 75 couples attending. The color scheme was red throughout. Fischer's orchestra of six pieces furnished the music. The grand march was led off by Miss Betty Palm (president) and Mr. W. W. Shanor, and Miss Fanny Keith and Mr. Owen Carey. Prof. and Mrs. Vedder and Dr. and Mrs. Morse were patrons. Among the guests were the following former Feronians: Mrs. Malta Carstons, Gertrude Alden, Myssie Bennett and Hazel Kellogg, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Blundon, of Jackson.

The sophomores have charge of the Holcad this week. The staff of editors consists of the following members: K. M. Klinger, editor-in-chief; E. W. Brandels, business manager; D. L. Hagerman, humorous editor; L. J. Hill, sporting editor; C. F. Barton, art editor.

The general museum has been closed the past week on account of repairs and changes in several of the cases. It will probably be open again sometime during the present week. In addition to repairs mentioned a new case is being built for the embryo models imported from Germany last fall, and now in use daily by the class in embryology.

On Tuesday afternoon, January 31, the class in works management inspected the plants and processes of manufacture of the Seager Engine Works and the Olds Motor Works of this city. Mr. Don Stevens, of the Economics Department, also accompanied the party. The special machines and fixtures for facilitating manufacture and the methods of handling the help and the work were specially studied.

Mrs. C. B. Collingwood attended the funeral of her father, Abner D. Thomas, at Alto, Mich., Thursday of last week. Mr. Thomas was 86 years of age, and leaves a family of six children, four of whom have at some time been students at M. A. C. They are Harris Thomas, '85, of Lansing, W. A. Thomas, with '87, of Coopersville, N. C. Thomas, with '97, of Caledonia, and Leroy Thomas, '03, of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Gunson speaks on English Horticulture at the Hort. Club tomorrow evening.

WANTED.—Married man to take charge of 300 acre dairy farm near M. A. C. A share proposition to right man. Good markets—registered stock—pleasant location. Address box 915, East Lansing.

Mr. D. A. Seeley of our weather bureau gave an illustrated lecture Friday evening for the benefit of the short course students. The subject was, "The Weather and the Weather Bureau," and proved both interesting and instructive. It was given at 6:30 so as not to interfere with the entertainment given by the Dramatic Club.

The Forensic Literary Society held an enjoyable party in the Agricultural Building Saturday evening. About 50 couples attended with Dean and Mrs. Bissell and Dean and Mrs. Lyman as patrons. Quite a number of alumni and out of town guests were present. Two feature dances were introduced. The Assembly Hall orchestra of eight pieces furnished the music.

Plans are being perfected for the Round-Up Institute to be held at the college Feb. 28, Mar. 1, 2 and 3. The speakers have nearly all been arranged for, and our own college band will furnish music. The Michigan fruit exhibited at the Land Show in Chicago will be on exhibition. In addition a very extensive exhibit of spraying machinery and material will be made.

NETT LAKE, MINN.
Jan. 15, 1911.

HENRY A. HAIGH,
Detroit, Mich.

Dear Sir and Bro.: I have just read with interest and approval your excellent communication in the M. A. C. RECORD of the 3d inst., and I heartily agree with you that old College Hall should be carefully preserved as a memento for the students of old to visit when they return to the college.

I would like if I could to hear from all my M. A. C. classmates once every few years. I have heard recently from Grover, Lowell, Bemis, McPherson, Cook and Ranier.

I am in the U. S. Indian School Service. My wife and I each receive $1,020 a year. We like the work, and I think, perhaps, my success since leaving college has averaged with the rest of my class. I own a good farm at Webberville, Mich., which my son works.

Last February I saw Prof. A. J. Cook, Henry G. Reynolds and Mrs. President Abbot, in California.

I have been in Arizona, Oklahoma, Nevada, Wisconsin and Minnesota in the Indian School Service. It is a useful field of effort.

I noticed you were the only one of the class of '74 at the last alumni meeting. I wish that all of the class who are alive could meet once more.

Yours sincerely,

GEORGE W. BREWER, '74.

An address on "Some Present Day Problems in Technical Education," delivered by Dean Bissell at the meeting of the Michigan Engineering Society held in Lansing recently will be published in the RECORD next week.

Miss Marjory Murray is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Rand on the Delta. Miss Murray was a student at the ill-fated seminary near Baltimore, Md., which burned recently. About 40 girls were wrapped in wet blankets and carried through the flames to safety. The building burned at night, the inmates losing practically all of their belongings.

Announcement for dairy week will soon be ready for distribution. March 6 to 11 is the date, the work being arranged for the benefit of those who are unable to leave home for a longer time. Feeding, judging, testing and diseases of the dairy cow will all receive consideration during this course, and the work will be made as practicable and as profitable as possible.

Colds and grippe are becoming quite the thing at M. A. C. owing to the recent weather conditions. In addition to regular students who are ill, about 16 or 18 short course men were out of class part of last week.

Miss Paulina Raven has been visiting her parents at East Lansing, and left Saturday for Columbia University where she will study for her master's degree. She will spend the month of June at M. A. C., returning for a six weeks' term at Columbia where she will receive her degree Aug. 17. Her address is 415 W. 118th St., New York City.
