If you travel to any extent you should have in your possession at all times an introduction card to the managers of Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels...It is yours for the asking...It assures courteous attention to your wants and an extra bit of consideration that frequently means much.

Your alumni association is participating in the Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel Plan and has a voice in its efforts and policies. At each alumni hotel is an index of resident alumni for your convenience in looking up friends when traveling. Other desirable features are included.

If you wish an introduction card to the managers of Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels, write to your Alumni Secretary or use the coupon.

NOMADS

The top of the pass! To-day, just as in the remote Biblical age when herdsmen tended the flocks of Abraham, these nomad tribes drive their flocks each season up from the parched desert to the high tablelands of the Caucasus, green with life-giving grass.

We moderns of the West make no such forced marches in search of food. In our lands of little rain, electricity pumps water to make the desert bloom. Electricity lights the herdsman's home and milks the cows in his stable. Electricity powers the great network of transportation and communication which binds city and country into one complex system of civilized living.

Yet, as Thomas A. Edison has written, "The electrical development of America has only well begun. So long as there remains a single task being done by men and women which electricity could do as well, so long will that development be incomplete."

This monogram appears on a multitude of products which contribute to the efficiency and comfort of both factory and home. It is your assurance of electrical correctness and dependability.

L. B. FALCONE
Director of M. S. C. Band

SPECTATORS at the football games this fall have been greatly impressed with the showing of the College military band under the direction of L. B. Falcone. During his second year as director he has increased the personnel from sixty-two to seventy-five pieces. Not only the music at the games but the concert playing of the organization is receiving very high praise over the state.

Intercollegiate Club of Detroit Active

AFTER years of preparatory work, the alumni of all colleges in Detroit who have been working together as the Intercollegiate Association and later the Intercollegiate Athletic club, have reincorporated under the name of the Intercollegiate Alumni Club of Detroit. This organization will start its drive soon for a modern club building in the downtown section which will furnish complete club facilities, including full athletic facilities, for local college men and their families. It is also aimed to provide features of junior membership so that young college graduates coming to Detroit will find a home at the club and a chance to associate with other college men.

Armory Impressive for Annual Flower Show

CONVERTING the mammoth Demonstration Hall into an elaborate indoor flower garden, the Michigan State Florists' association drew hundreds of people to their annual exhibit on the campus November 9 and 10. A honey show, horticulture exhibit and apple-judging contest were held in connection with the flower show.

The flower exhibit, which was the principal attraction, included something like 100,000 blossoms of many varieties and colors of chrysanthemums, roses, snapdragons, sweet peas, and other blooms. Potted plants were shown in groups in competition.

Many Lansing and East Lansing visitors found the large hall of the armory transformed into a magic garden, with layouts of gardens, winding walks, flower beds, trees, shrubs and garden furniture.

Professor Alex Laurie, of the horticulture department, acting as secretary of the Michigan State Florists' association was directly in charge of the big display, while V. R. Gardner, head of the department judged the fruit exhibit, and George Starr, another member of the department, judged the vegetables. Other organizations who assisted in sponsoring the unique exhibit were the Michigan Society of Horticulture; Detroit Allied Florists; Grosse Pointe Horticulture society and the Bay City-Saginaw Floriculture society.

JOHN M. GOULD
Drum Major

JOHNS GOULD, '30, of Hastings, Michigan, now serving his second year as drum major, has led the band down the chalk marks of the gridiron field with the stride of a veteran. Johnny has become quite adept in tossing his baton over the goal post and in leading the band in the formation of a block "S" prior to the playing of Alma Mater between halves.

Alumni Officers Visit Three Eastern Clubs

PRESIDENT A. C. MacKINNON and Secretary Stewart of the Alumni association, accompanied by Mrs. MacKinnon and Mrs. Stewart, returned last week from a short trip east, where they visited alumni clubs in Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Washington, D. C.

An informal tea was held at the Winton Hotel on the evening of November 18. President F. H. Valentine, '09, welcomed the alumni officers and assured them that the Northern Ohio club was greatly interested in the efforts of the alumni organization in promoting those problems and policies most needed at Michigan State College. About thirty alumni and former students were present at this meeting. The annual meeting of the Northeastern Ohio club will probably be held in Cleveland sometime in February.

Those present were: F. H. Valentine, '08, and Mrs. Valentine; J. D. Appleyard, w'30; S. S. Fisher, '09; L. L. Appleyard, '09, and Mrs. Appleyard; N. J. Pitt, '20, and Mrs. Pitt; H. F. Laver, '28; Paul J. Hartsuch, '24; Lucile Grover Hartsuch, '23; L. J. Bullen, '23, and Mrs. Bullen; Clifford W. Reynolds, '14; R. F. Bell, '05, and Mrs. Bell; G. A. Parker, '97, and Mrs. Parker; Glen O. Stewart, '17; Fanny Rogers Stewart, '18; A. C. MacKinnon, '95, and Mrs. MacKinnon.

PITTSBURGH CLUB

On Monday evening, November 26, about twenty State alumni met at the University of Pittsburgh room in the Chamber of Commerce building, at Pittsburgh. The alumni officers were well pleased with the interest shown by this group. The occasion was animated by some discussion as to whether or not athletes are being exploited to their own harm at many colleges and universities today. F. L. Hendrick, '21, was named chairman to select a board of directors for a Michigan State club of Western Pennsylvania. The directors will choose their officers at a meeting to be held in the near future.

Those present were: G. D. Gamel, '25; L. J. Conkel, '25; J. M. Watts, '23; D. S. Semelnow, '16; G. D. Francisco, '02; H. C. Newman, '24; E. J. Rosson, w'29; L. S. Ross, '23; W. A. Siefert, '19; O. W. Kotila, '24; M. R. Crocker, '20; F. L. Hendrick, '21; G. O. Stewart, '17; A. C. MacKinnon, '95.

WASHINGTON, D. C. CLUB

The M. S. C. club of Washington, D. C. played host to many alumni attending the Land Grant College meeting in Washington at the close of their session Thursday evening, November 22. The dinner at the Grace Dodge Hotel Garden House with President L. H. Dewey, '88, presiding, was characteristic of the many meetings sponsored by that group. President R. S. Shaw gave a detailed account of the present program at the College, and was enthusiastically received on his first appearance in the east. In addition to President Shaw, short talks were given by Dr. E. A. Burnett, '87, Chancellor of the University of Nebraska; Director V. R. Gardner, '05, of the experiment station, M. S. C.; President A. C. MacKinnon, '95, and Glen O. Stewart, '17, of the alumni association. Every one present took mental notes on Michigan State news and statistics for future use. The annual meeting of the Washington club will be held on the evening of February 21.

Those present were: H. W. Hulbert, '15; R. R. Pailthorp, '13; C. A. McCue, '01; M. A. Crosby, '02; C. C. Woodbury, '04; Myrtle Lewton, '25; Lillian Lewton Hopkins, '24; C. B.

Smith, '94; Lottie Lee Smith, '98; G. H. Collingwood, '11; R. J. Baldwin, '04; H. C. Skeels, '98, and Mrs. Skeels; R. A. Turner, '09, and Mrs. Turner; Mark F. Welsh, '19; Claribel Pratt Welsh, '16; C. P. Gillette, '84; L. F. Livingston, '14; H. C. Rafter, '17; Glen O. Stewart, '17; Fanny Rogers Stewart, '18; Victor R. Gardner, '05; Lyster H. Dewey, '88; Mrs. L. H. Dewey, '90; R. S. Shaw; E. A. Burnett, '87; A. C. MacKinnon, '95, and Mrs. MacKinnon; H. Thurtell, '88; William A. Taylor, '88; L. J. Fairchild, '14; D. A. Spence, '12; William D. Frazer, '09; Shirley Gardner Frazer, '09; Anna Pickett Gurney, '05; Dayton A. Gurney, '04; Clarence A. Reed, '05; Katherine McNaughton Reed, '05; E. W. Brandes, '13; J. F. Cox; Roy C. Potts, '06; Cora L. Feldkamp, '05; Mary Baker Waite, '98; Edna B. McNaughton, '11, and several guests.

U. of M.-Michigan State Clubs Meet

With Coach Kipke and Coach Oosterbaan, as guests the Lansing alumni clubs of the University and M. S. C. met at the Union on Wednesday evening before the U. of M. game. Short talks were also given by President Shaw, Ed. Shields of Lansing and G. O. Stewart, alumni secretary. J. B. Hasselman acted as toastmaster.

A similar meeting was held by the Detroit clubs of the two institutions on Friday noon prior to the game. The success of the meetings will no doubt mark the beginning of another annual event.

SPARTAN CLUBS

THE alumni secretary has been visiting many Spartan clubs this fall and the series of meetings in connection with the district institutes of the Michigan State Teachers' association filled the month of October. The growth of interest for alumni meetings in each district was quite noticeable this year and most of them were very successful.

DISTRICT 2, SAGINAW

On Monday evening, October 22, alumni of Saginaw and the visiting teachers enjoyed a banquet served in the Gold Room of the Baneroft hotel. While a downpour of rain kept many away Chairman C. N. Winston, '10, was well pleased with the showing. In addition to the secretary, talks were given by A. C. MacKinnon, of Bay City, president of the alumni association, and Dr. John W. Crist, of the horticulture department.

DISTRICT 5, LANSING

Attended largely by teachers was the luncheon held at the Hotel Olds on Tuesday noon, October 23. Dean Conrad was introduced to the alumni for the first time by Turner Broughton, '15, president of the Central Michigan club. Secretary Stewart discussed the vision of alumni work in its relation to the institution.

DISTRICT 4, GRAND RAPIDS

Thomas Gunson, the friend of all old grads, spoke at the alumni meeting Thursday noon, October 25, at the Masonic Temple, sharing honors with Charles W. Garfield, '70, and Perry G. Holden, '80, of Chicago. Herb Straight, '17, has started his second year as chairman of the Furniture City club. They have been successful in getting some of the city's best boys and girls headed toward Michigan State.

DISTRICT 5, CADILLAC

A fine alumni dinner was arranged by Chairman Dorr Stack on the occasion of the teachers visiting Cadillac on October 18. Nearly fifty alumni and former students attended this gathering at the new Northwood hotel. Dr. Eben Mumford of the college spoke briefly on the family spirit of M. S. C. while Secretary Stewart discussed in detail the growth and gave many figures of importance about the college as it is today.

Of chief significance in district five was the election of a Michigan State alumna, Mary Johnson, '18, as chairman for the coming year. Miss Johnson came to Michigan State from Marion, Michigan, and after completing her Home Ec. course here spent five years as science and mathematics teacher in the Grand Ledge high school. She is now completing her sixth year in the Cadillac schools, first as science and mathematics instructor, and now as head of the home economics division. The fifth district will meet at Traverse City in 1929.

DISTRICT 6, CHEBOYGAN

An informal dinner for the few alumni of district six was held (Continued on page 9)

"Close Beside the Winding Cedar"

The new chimes in the Memorial Tower should bring forth tales of the old college bell in Williams Hall, how it would be strangely silent after Hallowe'en or how it was a favorite deviltry to prop it on its noble head and fill it with water on a cold night. There must be those now willing to admit they stole the clapper so they could duck one of Uncle Frank's lecture with some chance of saving themselves.

The initial appearance of the newly organized co-ed glee club will be made on the evening of December 17 at a ceremony in celebration of the lighting of the huge evergreen which is decked out annually as the Michigan State College "Christmas tree."

WKAR fans may have to breakfast with a radio accompaniment since the Federal Radio commission has ended evening programs over the college station. It has been placed on a wave length of 288.3 meters, 1,040 kilocycles, and the power cut to 500 watts. Daylight broadcasting only is permitted the station, and its hours are from "sunrise to sunset."

"The Eczema" the publication of Pi Delta Epsilon initiates, has been barred from the mails. Postmaster Wilcox opines that "The Eczema would burn holes in the mail sacks." President Shaw appointed a committee of five to investigate and make a detailed report on the method of publication of the sheet and also to suggest rules limiting the extent to which the initiates of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, may go in getting out the publication.

The Eunomians were awarded the silver cup for the house most attractively decorated in honor of returning alumni at Homecoming. The first prize award is to be the permanent possession of the society winning it the most times in ten years. The Union Literary society won it last year, the first year the trophy was offered.

Funds for the construction of a new cavalry barn to replace the structure which was destroyed by fire November 4, were released by the state administrative board at a special meeting. Governor Green asserted that between $10,000 and $15,000 would be needed to replace the burned barn and the board made the latter sum available so that work may proceed at once.

The loss caused by the fire was estimated at several thousands of dollars. The loss of military equipment, which was stored in the stock room and destroyed in the blaze, has not yet been estimated.

With the aid of state police troopers, the 65 horses were herded out of the barn. Sixty government mounts, five privately owned horses, and two government mules were housed in the cavalry barn.

Lank DeVries, elongated six year man of the Olympic house, nonchalantly ate six pieces of custard pie while the Olympic house was threatened by flames early in the evening of November 12. The East Lansing fire department, genial neighbors of the threatened house, called to seek the source of the conflagration. Chan Crawford took up a strategic position in the Olympic cellar and directed the activities of his smoke eaters. After several tons of water had been emptied upon the mounting flames, the smoke cleared away and the Olympics proceeded with their evening meal minus the pie that DeVries had consumed during the early stages of the disaster. It is told that Harry Kurrle, varsity halfback, made a flying tackle at his dresser drawer and smashed it to small bits in his attempt to salvage his personal effects.

News of our course in hotel management has spread afar. Dean E. H. Ryder is in receipt of a letter from Alf Myer, Grimstead, Norway, inquiring about the course which he had seen mentioned in a hotel magazine.

Several long trip have been arranged for members of the college debate team. One of the most important debates of the season will be the triangular debate with Marquette and Purdue universities and the State team competing. Dual debates have been arranged for with Albion, Western State Teachers and Detroit City colleges. An eastern trip will include forensic tilts with Oberlin and Wooster colleges, and the University of West Virginia, and will be concluded at the provincial Pi Kappa Delta convention to be held at Marietta college in Ohio. Butler, Indianapolis and Cincinnati universities will oppose the Spartan speakers on a western tour.

Plans of the Women's Athletic association to build a log cabin at the southern end of the college property, were given encouragement when the state board of agriculture approved the association's request to borrow $1,250 from the college, to be repaid within a period of five years, at five per cent interest. The co-eds will use the logs from old log cabins to construct their 24 by 16 cabin, which will be located one and one-half miles directly south of the college, in a clearing of the woods. The cabin will be featured by a huge fireplace, constructed of field stones, and, according to Miss Helen Grimes, head of the women's physical education department, will be completed as soon as possible.

One purpose of the athletic association in constructing the cabin will be to encourage winter sports. Co-eds on hiking trips will spend the night there. Campfires will be held near by and classes in camp cookery and woodcraft will make use of the building. The cabin is planned to accommodate between 25 and 30 co-eds.

GILDED YOUTH

THE purveyors of that fallacious belief in college students of today as "gilded youth" who spend their days and evenings in search of pleasure and boast no speaking acquaintance with work, would find their theories shaken should they make a careful observation of the situation at Michigan State college.

Here, it's a case of "everybody works but—a few." More than 9,000 jobs are given out each year by J. G. Biery of the Y. M. C. A. employment bureau, and they bring in a total of approximately $35,000 yearly, to the men students. This total includes not only the steady positions which may pay as high as $10, or rarely $15, a week throughout the college year, but also the odd-jobs of 40 or 50 cents an hour.

The jobs range all the way from taking care of furnaces to regular employment by Lansing and East Lansing business firms. Many of the boys wash dishes, wait on table, and even try their hand at "minding children" and helping with the house work, for their board.

There were 348 students on the college payroll for the first six weeks of the fall term. They earned a total of $5,500. Their work was mostly in connection with construction and repairs on the campus roads and buildings. Only a few of the students do typing or other clerical work in college offices.

It has been estimated that 85 per cent of the students earn at least part of their expenses. A larger majority of the men students work, than of the co-eds. This is probably due to the fact that it is less difficult for them to find jobs which will not interfere with their classroom schedules.

Spartans' Record Under Kipke Praiseworthy

Fans Impressed That Football Is On the Upgrade; Team Shows Comeback At Close of Season

By TED SMITS, w'27

THREE victories, four defeats, and a tie sums up the 1928 football season at Michigan State from a statistical standpoint, but to those acquainted with Coach Harry Kipke and his team the fact that he was able to install his system and bring along the eleven from a mid-season depression to a brilliant close points to brighter things ahead.

The games that stand out in the minds of alumni and students alike are those with the University of Michigan and North Carolina State, the last two of the season. Following a 39 to 0 defeat at the hands of the University of Detroit, Kipke put new fire into his squad and on the very next Saturday battled the University of Michigan to a standstill. The fact that the Spartans lost, 3 to 0, the smallest score by the way to which State has been able to hold the Wolverines in more than ten years, in no way dims the glory won that afternoon by the Green and White.

Then to conclude the season, Kipke's team trimmed a sister institution from the south, North Carolina State, 7 to 0, in one of the most exciting games seen in many years at East Lansing. That game marked the conclusion of the football careers of seven seniors all of whom have played an important part on this year's team, and six of whom are linemen. Included in this list are Captain Hornbeck and Anderson, ends; Christensen, tackle; Hitchings and Moeller, guards; Crabill, center; and Kurrle, halfback.

Although this year's freshman squad has not been up to expectations, prospects for next year at the present time are good. Kipke's system has begun to take effect, and the general impression on the campus is that football is on the upgrade. Twelve letter men from this year's team will be available for 1929, including a veteran backfield, and if Kipke and his assistant coaches, "Ed" VanDervoort, "Gob" Wilson, and "Mike"

FOOTBALL BANQUET

THE annual football banquet given by the Central Michigan Alumni Club for the Michigan State squad, Remington's all-state high school team and other high school teams will be held Saturday, December 15 at East Lansing. This year's football bust will be the largest ever. Come!

Casteel, mould a new line, it is safe to say that State will make a better showing in the coming season.

Court Season Looks Bright for Spartans

PROSPECTS for another winning basketball team at State are exceptionally bright this year. At present, seven out of last year's ten letter winners are available, and with the new year it is hoped that Captain Carl Felt will return to school to augment the list. Colvin

Formation of a schedule for 1929 has not been completed, but it is expected that the games with Michigan, Colgate, and the Mississippi Aggies will be retained, several other major colleges added, and probably three minor teams tackled in addition.

COLGATE 16, STATE 0

A crowd of 10,000 saw State tackle Colgate university at East Lansing, October 20, in the homecoming game that drew several thousand alumni back to the campus. Despite a score of 16 to 0 against the Spartans, it was a game not without its thrills. Colgate got two early breaks to take a lead that somehow State could not challenge, but despite this the Green and White eleven fought gamely on, and in the second half displayed an aggressive offense that pushed the ball on several occasions well into Colgate territory.

Colgate boasted of one of the best teams in the east this year, and the performance of the Maroons at East Lansing was certainly up to the best standards of football. Outweighed in the line, State nevertheless presented for inspection several very capable performers in Smead at center, Hitchings at guard, and Christensen at tackle. In the backfield, Nordberg at quarter and Grove at half also looked good.

STATE 6, MISSISSIPPI AGGIES 6

State started off the intersectional game with the Mississippi Aggies like wildfire, scoring a touchdown after the first few minutes of play, but failing to make the extra point, an omission that later proved fatal. Following the first early counter, State settled back a bit, but the southerners seemed even more determined and in the last two minutes of the game the Dixie team connected with several long passes and added to them some substantial sweeps around end in order to put over a touchdown that knotted the count. The try for point was blocked by the Spartan line, and the game ended in a deadlock.

The contest marked the first real appearance as a star of Fred Danziger, who was put in at fullback in the place of "Duke" Schau, whose injuries kept his play this fall much below expectations.

DICKESON

Although much lighter than Schau, Danziger smashed the line with power and proved himself capable on the defense.

DETROIT 39, STATE 0

Facing what many critics believe to be the best football team in America today, and what Coach Kipke himself declared to be the best he had ever seen in action, State was forced to bow to the University of Detroit at Detroit, November 3, 39 to 0. State battled the Titans on even terms during the first quarter, but gradually the superior weight and speed of the powerful Detroit team began to tell, and when the dust of battle had cleared away the Titans had put over six touchdowns, three each in the second and third quarters.

The game was not as one sided as the score would indicate. The two teams would play along almost deadlocked when a Titan back such as Captain Connell or Brazil would break away for runs of from 40 to 70 yards. In between those brilliant spurts, State's line and backfield played heroically in an effort to halt the Crimson avalanche.

Following the game it was universally admitted that in Smead, Coach Kipke had a center who could battle with any of them, while Roger Grove, the slender sophomore, not only outkicked Detroit's star, Lloyd Brazil, but displayed all-around ability.

MICHIGAN 3, STATE 0

In view of the rather one-sided defeat at the hands of Detroit, and Michigan's wonderful display of form in the Illinois and Navy games, little was expected of the Spartan team that Coach Kipke put on the field against his own alma mater at Ann Arbor, November 10. As has been the case for so many years, Michigan was conceded the victory again, and by a rather one-sided score. Gaining possession of the ball shortly after the kickoff,

A schedule studded with such brilliant teams as Michigan, Notre Dame, Marquette, Colgate, Syracuse, Cornell university, Penn State, and Ohio Wesleyan will afford the Spartans plenty of opportunity to win recognition.

State surprised by unleashing a passing attack, with Schau doing the heaving, and Captain Hornbeck and Anderson on the receiving ends, and in no time at all the Spartans had the ball within Michigan's ten yard line. Thrown back by the Wolverine defense, State again showed its offense to punch down to the Michigan goal line, but again the Green and White failed in its final bid for a touchdown.

Shortly after the second quarter started, Michigan got a good break and challenged State's goal line, but the Spartans held, and the University resorted to a field goal to score the three points that spelled victory.

The remainder of the game was anyone's battle, with first State and then the University challenging. In the closing two minutes, State came within 15 yards of the goal line, but a place-kick, attempted in the rain, failed, and State was forced to leave the field in a defeat that everyone admitted was most honorable.

First downs and yards gained were about even, with State making most of its ground by means of passes, and Michigan resorting to its running game for yardage. In one department State held a decided edge and that was in kicking, with Grove outdoing the best that the University could offer. The two lines were about matched in ability, while Captain Hornbeck and Anderson turned in great performances at the flanks to halt Michigan's attack time and again. In addition to Grove, Nordberg and Danziger also showed up well in State's backfield, with Schau getting away several neat passes.

STATE 7, NORTH CAROLINA STATE 0

Determined to close the season in victory, Michigan State found a strong North Carolina State team as its obstacle, but Kipke's boys were not to be outdone, and the Spartans finally emerged victorious in a hard played contest, 7 to 0. Snow prevented the use of the forward pass to the extent both teams desired, but despite this the play was brilliant and ferocious.

State's touchdown came in the third quarter after a 60-yard march down the field that was culminated in Danziger's lunge over tackle for the counter. A pass to Grove and several runs by Dickson contributed in the advance.

Despite the cold weather, more than 4,000 saw the game. Only three substitutions were made, two by State, and one by the visitors. The only changes Coach Kipke made were to send Dill in at

Dual Captaincy to Dickeson and Danziger

MICHIGAN State will have two football captains next year for the first time in its history. At a meeting of the letter men, Fred Danziger, fullback, of Detroit, and Vern Dickeson, halfback, of Highland Park, were tied for the honor after three ballots, and it was decided to let the two backfield stars share responsibilities next season. One letter man was absent, Harry Kurrle, and he might have cast the deciding vote, but as it is the Spartans are assured of two worthy leaders in Dickeson and Danziger.

Both of these men started the season as substitutes, but in the last three games, with Detroit, Michigan, and North Carolina State, they displayed a slashing brand of football to virtually lead State's attack.

In addition to the fact that two captains for football is unprecedented in Spartan history, it is interesting to note that Dickeson is the first State athlete in more than a decade to captain two major teams. Dickeson as a junior led State's great basketball team last year.

Coach Kipke awarded 19 major letters and four service sweaters to members of the squad. The awards are as follows:

Brown Leads Cinder Men to Victory

MICHIGAN State concluded another undefeated cross-country season, November 24, by winning the Central Intercollegiate Conference run at East Lansing, making a low score of 29 points to

CAPTAIN BROWN

36 for Butler university, and 69 for Ypsilanti Normal with Marquette university in fourth place.

Previous to the Conference run, State had defeated the University of Notre Dame, 27 to 28, the University of Marquette, 17 to 42, and the University of Michigan, 23 to 32, and had won recognition as one of the two or three strongest teams in the entire west.

Captain Lauren Brown was undefeated in dual meets, winning all of his races by wide margins, but in the Central Conference run he was beaten for the first time in two years by Sivak of Butler, a former Illinois Athletic club distance star.

State has now won nine consecutive cross-country meets in the past three year, winning the Central Intercollegiate three times in a row, and trouncing Michigan, Notre Dame, and Marquette twice apiece in consecutive years.

In view of the splendid performances of Coach Mort Mason's team, major let-

DEATHS

CALVIN D. BEECHER, 1880

Calvin D. Beecher, w'80, died suddenly October 5, 1928, at his home near Flushing, Michigan.

ROBERT TURNER MACNAUGHTON, 1878

Robert T. MacNaughton, '78, died November 7, 1928, at West Brighton, Staten Island, New York. MacNaughton was a native of Jackson, Michigan, where, after leaving college, he entered the real estate business with his father. He later moved to Staten Island where he carried on the same line of business very successfully.

GEORGE DOUGLAS REMER, 1918

George D. Remer, w'18, was killed October 15, 1928, while greasing an automobile in a garage at his home in Lansing. Remer was working under the machine and had removed a rear tire from the car. The jack which held the car off the ground became dislodged and allowed the machine to fall. The rim lodged on his neck and his death was attributed to choking.

Mr. Remer had been a resident of Lansing for several years and was general manager of the Remer Engineering company of this city.

RICHARD MILLER SLOCUM, 1871

Richard M. Slocum, '71, succumbed to a cerebral hemorrhage and heart attack at the Lincoln hospital in Aberdeen, South Dakota, November 2, 1928.

Mr. Slocum was a pioneer in newspaper work in South Dakota. Always interested in natural science, his leisure hours were spent in writing articles for state newspapers and periodicals, and one of his books entitled, "From Nebula to Man and Beyond" was published in 1922. He was a former regent of education for the state of South Dakota, and during his years on the state board the Northern State Teachers' college was founded.

One of Mr. Slocum's favorite stories at Commencement time was the way he was greeted by the president of the College when Slocum's work necessitated a late registration for classes, with "How do you do, Mr. Slow-Come."

Teachers from five counties surrounding Wayne, met in Detroit on October 18 and 19. On Tuesday the 19th, a small group of alumni met for luncheon at the Statler hotel where Thomas Gunson gave some very interesting news about the College. Miss Gladys Franks, alumni recorder, represented the alumni office at this meeting.

Many Thanks---

The attitude of many alumni and friends toward the Union and their sincere desire to assist from time to time in its completion program was quite evident from the flood of small checks received in the recent "Shower of Gold" campaign.

Typical of the many letters received was the following from F. B. Mumford, '91, dean of agriculture at the University of Missouri:

October 23, 1928.

Dear Secretary:

It is a pleasure for me to comply with your request published in the October number of the Michigan State College Record. I am enclosing herewith my check as evidence of my continued interest in my Alma Mater and gratitude for the opportunities which I have been permitted to enjoy as the result of my association with Michigan State College.

Very sincerely yours,

F. B. Mumford, '91.

Alumni Using Hotel Rooms At Union

Just who stops at the Union Memorial Building is often asked by a visitor on the campus. While the building is an alumni home and a clubhouse for the undergraduate, the public so far had enjoyed the hotel room privileges.

Among the alumni registering during October appeared the following names: Burt Wernuth, '02, E. P. Weamer, '23, Heman H. Allen, '14, W. K. Wonders, '02, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. MacKinnon, '05,

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Woodworth, '08 and '01, O. W. Laidlaw, '17, and Henry H. Haigh, '74.

A plot of ground south of the new state police barracks, facing on Harrison road, will be the site of the new poultry plant for which the legislature voted an appropriation of $50,000. It is planned to construct a $25,000 or $30,000 service house, which will be the most expensive unit of the plant, this fall. The plant will include, in addition to the service house, a home for the caretaker, brooder house, and accommodations for the college poultry flock as well as for the hens which are participating in the egg-laying contest.

Dr. Burnett has been at the head of the university since January 1927, when he took the place left vacant by the resignation of Chancellor Avery. Last March he was elected chancellor until next June by the regents, because he was not then willing to take the position permanently. His decision to accept the chancellorship permanently, as offered to him by the regents a month ago, settles one issue that has been hanging over the university for some time. The regents are to be congratulated on their sound judgment in deciding the matter as they did. Since Dr. Burnett has entered the high office he has filled it with satisfaction to everyone concerned. He shows a devotion to the university of today and an interest in the university of the future that augurs well for the progress of the institution. Indiana Limestone from the quarries of Indiana Limestone Company is being used for this project.

Building the Great Cathedral

THE progress of the great Washington Cathedral is of interest to the entire nation. The Indiana Limestone Company, which is furnishing the stone for this edifice, counts it a high privilege to have so important a part in this undertaking which will have a place in our country's history.

For such a building, only natural stone could do justice to the architect's design. Indiana Limestone was selected because this fine-grained, light-colored limestone has proved unequalled for building purposes. It is a fact that the limestones of which the great cathedrals of Europe are built are not of so fine and durable a quality as this limestone from the hills of southern Indiana.

A vast deposit and improved production methods make Indiana Limestone practicable for every building purpose at moderate cost. We will gladly send you an illustrated booklet showing fine buildings constructed of Indiana Limestone and telling about this wonderful stone. Or, write for our booklet showing residences. The October issue of the Farmers'
 Wife magazine contains a laudatory article on Myrtle Lewton's vocal talent.
 According to the magazine Miss Lewton is studying voice culture under Madame Kemeny Vonlunde in New York City, and expects to study in America and under European masters for at least seven more years before making her debut.

 marks that he has bought this house and is likely to stay awhile.

Ruth Gene Palmer sends in her blue slip from 3416 Gray, Detroit, with the following notes: "No change in occupation—still teaching foods at the Nolan Intermediat. Was fortunate enough to go to Europe and still be enrolled for a course from M. S. C. (Doug Steere's article proved doubly interesting after visiting Oxford. We even got behind the scenes and saw the kitchens in two of the colleges. Modern?—Miss Gross,
 Dorothy Hanigan, '23, Sylvia Wisson,
 '21, Candace Williams, '20, and Dr. Dye were also on the trip."

"Every time we get a Record without our wonderful boy's announcement in it, Fred wants to know why. I tell him it is very simple—he hasn't written about him. But I know he is so busy watching him grow that he never will have time to write about it. So I wish you would put in '25 notes—since there are none for about '45 to '50—that Fred W.
 and Alice Skeels Moore announce the arrival of Elton Homer on June 20.
 He is grandson to Homer C. Skeels, '98.
 His father thinks he is the growingest kid ever was and he just about is.
 Weighs 15 pounds 12 ounces, sits alone, swims excellently, talks (we have not yet learned to understand him) and stands up hanging on the side of his crib. I think the best of all is the fact that we have not yet lost even a part of a night's sleep over him. We are very happy in our home here. We like the idea of having our own furniture. Fred likes his work except when he has to work too hard—but I think that holds with us all."

Stuart and Miriam Bechtel Seeley announce the birth of Stuart William Jr. on October 28, 1928.

— JOHN HANCOCK SERIES —

• • WIVES of • • BUSINESS MEN

THE difference between office and household economy often causes astonishment and confusion to business men. Their wives mean well, but as for method—!

The household budget is the answer. We have sent thousands of our budget sheets to wives who have attacked this problem.

To business men who care about ordered and reasonable expenditure and saving—that is, the introduction of business methods into the home—we recommend the John Hancock Home Budget Sheet.

Your local John Hancock office will be glad to send you a copy, or one can be obtained by writing to
