S.A.Soldiers Eat Kellogg's

Did YOU know that the military in South Africa eat Kellogg's cereals? Before the soldiers begin their day, invading Angola, breaking up funerals for victims of apartheid in S. Africa, planting mines in Namibia, and more - they eat Kellogg's cereals!

You may ask, "Isn't it illegal for U.S. corporations to sell products to the S.A. military?" Yes. But Kellogg's and other corporations have found an easy way around the sanction laws. Mr.J.Stewart, VP of Kellogg's,at a March meeting requested by Kellogg's, told the BOYCOTT COMMITTEE that Kellogg's DOES NOT SELL DIRECTLY to the military, but there is no way to prevent distribution centers from purchasing & selling cereals to the S.A.military! Our answer to him was KELLOGG'S, GET OUT OF S.AFRICA. DIVEST NOW!

In addition, when Kellogg's workers at the factory in Springs,S.A. are conscripted,Kellogg's pays the difference between the low military wages and the higher Kellogg's wages! Kellogg's pays taxes to the S.A. government(whose main task is maintaining the apartheid system).Kellogg's has written to many of you to tell you that our facts are wrong, that they pay equal wages to Black and white workers, that they sponsor schools and choirs, donate cereal and chairs to an orphanage, and other good deeds.But they refuse to provide data and job descriptions regarding their work force. They refuse to heed the calls by the S.African people themselves to GET OUT OF S.A.NOW. The African National Congress and the Coalition of S.A.Trade Unions has called for FULL DIVESTMENT of all foreign corporations.

You can help. Youth March

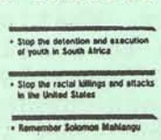
On April 15,over 1,200 youth from over 38 NYC schools demonstrated to condemn apartheid & racism.The S.A.Consulate refused to accept the 9000 signatures on petitions to STOP THE EXECUTIONS in S.A. The young people presented the petitions instead to an assistant to Archbishop Tutu at a Church meeting.



All of the planning, fund-raising, arrangements,leaflets,peacekeeping, etc.were carried out by the youth themselves! E.A.A.& E.S.R/Metro assisted only when necessary. All speakers were under the age of 25! Congratulations to the youth!!! Many have formed organizations at their high schools.Youth Condemn Apartheid & Racism will meet May 14, 1:30pm,Riverside Church to plan future events & support for Soweto Day. I call on Kellogg's Co. to divest fully from South Africa. I will not buy Kellogg's cereal until you do.

ANC NEWS BRIEFING

BANNING OF THE PEOPLE'S ORGANISATIONS

the Federation of Transvaal Women in response to the government crackdown on 18 organisations ... During the meeting Fedtraw members were urged to hold themselves ready to respond to calls for further protest action. In an impassioned address, Fedtraw vice president, Elizabeth Letanta, said: 'Botha must know that this (clampdown) will crush him eventually. Our hearts bleed every day. Our children are in jail. Botha must know our tears fall ... Today he says our organisations must be killed. He says people cannot talk for themselves. They must just mind other people's children ...' Fedtraw's Faith Matshikiza especially condemned the banning of the DPSC. 'No organisation has worked harder than the DPSC to end the state of emergency', she commented. New Nation 3.3.88

Detainees' Parents Support Committee:
The DPSC was formed by friends and families of those caught in a wave of detentions in August 1981. Since then, it has grown into a major human rights monitoring and campaigning body that has won two international awards.

Detentions Without Trial
About 3 400 people are currently in detention under the emergency regulations and security laws, according to the DPSC. This figure includes those held in the last month in Pietermaritzburg and Bophuthatswana ...

About 9 200 people were detained under the emergency regulations and security laws during the course of 1987, the DPSC said. This includes 694 people whose names are known to the DPSC, detained under security legislation, and about 8 500 people detained under the emergency regulations.

These detainees fell into the following categories: scholars, students, teachers (12.68%); community and political workers (8.36%); trade unionists and workers (23.92%); clergy and church workers (1.15%); journalists (1.01%); other, unspecified (52.88%). Weekly Mail 19.2.88

HEALTH MATTERS
Doctors in Baragwanath Hospital's overcrowded medical wards have adopted a new strategy: if the authorities won't take action to improve conditions for patients, then doctors will. Recently, senior doctors had 50 foam mattresses delivered to the hospital for patients who had been sleeping on blankets on the floor. In an extraordinary response, the hospital's chief superintendent, Chris van den Heever, said there were never more than 500 patients without a bed.

The delivery caused consternation in a state-run hospital where all goods must be issued through the stores department. In one ward a matron, abiding by the rules, removed the mattresses from under the patients. The doctor in charge New Nation 3.3.88

Nyanga Township Restricted
Cape Town's Nyanga township has been declared a restricted area open to residents only, according to a police order published in the Government Gazette yesterday. The order signed by Divisional Commissioner of the SAP for the Western Province, Brig RP During, proclaimed that 'no person who is not normally resident in the area — known as Nyanga township — may enter on or be present on or in any part of the area' without the written permission of the Divisional Commissioner' of the SAP for the Western Province division. Citizen 2.3.88

STUDENTS AND EDUCATION
The Government has admitted that 58 white schools were standing empty or being used for other purposes while there is a shortage of schools in the black community. According to the South African Institute of Race Relations 38 641 classrooms are needed to meet black demands. This means there is a shortage of at least 2 000 schools in the black community if one school consists of between 15 and 20 classrooms ..Sowetan 3.3.88

Apartheid Education Budget
The 1986-87 education budget for all races in SA amounted to over R6,7 billion, the SA Institute of Race Relations said. In its 1986 race relations survey released in Johannesburg, the Institute said the amount was allocated as follows: about R3 billion for white education, R1,1 billion for blacks, R868 million for coloureds, R607,5 milllion for indepen dent homelands, R367 million for Indians and R6 million for the Department of National Education. Citizen 2.3.88

POLICE CONFISCATE COFFIN Weekly Mail 11.3.88
Police confiscated a coffin bearing a slain Cape Youth Congress member before a mass funeral in Guguletu last Saturday. However, the coffin — with the body of Nkosiyabo Christopher Miza — was later returned.

Police took the coffin from his parents' home in Tambo Square just before the service. The Rev Syd Luckett, of the Anglican Board for Social Responsiblity, said pallbearers had defied a police ruling that the coffin should be mechanically conveyed to the church. City Press 28.2.88
